Today's Baseball

WASHINGTON (AP)—Carlson Gillenwater's second homer of the season with one on and Mickey Haefner's six-hit pitching gave Washington a 3 to 1 victory over Philadelphia Athletics in the first game of a doubleheader here today.

CLEVELAND (AP)—The American League-leading Cleveland Indians scored five runs in the fourth inning to defeat Detroit Tigers, 6 to 3, today in the opener of a doubleheader.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Ralph Kiner socked out three homers today to account for five runs as Pittsburgh Pirates defeated Cincinnati Reds, 10 to 3, in first game of a doubleheader. The blows were Kiner's 21st, 22nd and 23rd of the season.

Falling Limb Pins Pair In Auto

Albert Ledbetter, 26, and his wife, Josephine, 21, of Fresno, wait painfully for firemen to extricate them after a 50-foot limb fell from a eucalyptus tree, striking the car as they drove along the highway. The limb, two feet in diameter, jackknifed the dash across their legs. Both suffered broken legs. Firemen worked more than an hour to free them.

5 Men, Girl Saved From Burning Boat

VANCOUVER (CP)—Five men and a girl were rescued from their flaming 32-foot fishboat near Stuart Island, 120 miles northwest of Vancouver, Sunday.

Four of the men, from Vancouver, were flown to hospital with burns as a result of an explosion that turned one man into a flaming torch. He dove into the water.

Badly burned were Edgar Hansen, 36, and Clifford Gourdin, 22. They are reported in good condition today.

James Dyer, 20, and Gordon Wright, 24, were treated for burns and discharged.

The six were rescued by a passing fisherman.

Anglican Women Want Ministries

LONDON (AP)—The Lambeth conference was asked today to give women equal status with men in the Ministry of the Anglican Church.

The conference of Anglican churchmen has power to recommend but not to impose changes on its constituent churches.

The appeal was made by the Anglican group for the ordination of women to the ministry in a memorial proposing a "ministry of men and women merged into a common priesthood and a common diaconate."

The memorial said: "One characteristic regarded by men as distinctive of women is their enthusiasm."

It said a purely male ministry, elderly and over-burdened, was unlikely to "produce the fire and spiritual revival that alone will save the present generation...."

"It is hard to believe that the bulk of that numerous section of women that has drifted completely away from the church can ever be recalled save by other women."

Control Of Floods Planned B.C.- U.S. Columbia Areas

OTTAWA (CP)—Columbia River flood conditions will be discussed July 27 at Bonners Ferry, Idaho, the International Joint Commission announced today.

Aim of the meeting is to work out a plan for "control of floods in the various stages and British Columbia within the Columbia River basin," a statement said. Recent floods speeded up the original plans for a survey of Columbia problems.

"The commission had planned to have hearings in the Columbia basin at a later date when the final report of the International Columbia River Engineering Board would be available to the commission and interested parties might be asked to discuss all phases of the investigation."

"In view, however, of the abnormal flood conditions which have caused heavy losses during the months of May and June in the Columbia basin and on account of the vital interest in this problem of flood control by Canada and the United States, the commission is calling a special meeting."

It is being held under terms of the commission's "Columbia River reference" of March 9, 1944, one clause of which provides for a study of flood control in that area.

Announcing life reference in the House of Commons, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said at that time that the 1,200-mile Columbia is "a truly international river."

"Any development... on one side of the boundary is certain to have an effect in the other country. For this reason it is necessary that the plans for development of the river basin in one country should be adapted to those in the other."

The Columbia's watershed is 259,000 square miles, of which 39,400 is Canadian.

Chancellor Reports
On Gold Reserves

LONDON (Reuter)—Britain's gold and dollar reserves now stand at £473,000,000 ($1,792,000,000), Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, disclosed in the House of Commons today.

This includes E.R.P. receipts of £22,000,000 to date.

"We hope we may be able to retain our reserves at about the £500,000,000 mark," he added.

Sir Stafford said he hoped a greater volume of British exports would go to the hard currency countries, "particularly to the western hemisphere and most particularly to Canada."

Demilitarized Jerusalem, Haifa Areas Planned

RHODES (AP)—Count Folke Bernadotte said today he had asked Jews and Arabs to extend the four-week Palestine truce due to expire next Friday.

If both sides accept the principle of prolongation of the truce, the United Nations' mediator said, the question of the length of the extension would then be discussed.

The count said he also had proposed demilitarization of the Holy City of Jerusalem and the port, terminal and refinery facilities at Haifa.

2 Men Questioned As Seattle Child Found Murdered

SEATTLE (AP)—Two men were held for questioning today as police sought to solve the death of nine-year-old Ellen Jane Folwiler.

The child's body hidden by a covering of dirt and leaves, was found Sunday in the brushy area of Carkeek Park, in north Seattle, where she had been playing hide-and-seek with playmates.

An autopsy performed early today indicated death resulted from suffocation. County Detective Chief Adam Lyskowski said, after viewing the body, "I'm quite convinced it's a case of murder."

"It looks as though she had been struck a blow, or series of blows, on and under the chin," he added.

Her lips were cut and bruises were found on the jaw, nose, chest, shoulder, legs and thigh.

Her father, Oral G. Folwiler, 1944, one clause of which provides for a study of flood control in that area.

The father told authorities he was estranged from his wife, who has custody of their two daughters, but that he has been taking the girls on an outing every other week.

Douglas Not Party To Eisenhower Boom

LOSTINE, Ore. (AP)—Justice William O. Douglas said today that if the Eisenhower boom is part of a Douglas-for-President strategy, he has no knowledge of it.

The comment of the Supreme Court Justice, made at his summer home here, was on a statement by an unnamed Truman aide Sunday. The aide said at least some of those seeking to draft Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Democratic nomination are doing so as a cover for their activities in behalf of Douglas.

The justice said today if such a manoeuvre is afoot, he does not know of it and is not a party to it.

Would the justice be receptive to nomination offers? "No comment," he said.

Air Crash Over Britain Causes Deaths Of 39

LONDON (CP)—The still smouldering wreckage of a burned-out R.A.F. transport plane and a Scandinavian Sky-master today marked the death scene of 39 victims of the worst disaster in the history of British civil aviation.

The planes collided in mid-air, near suburban Northolt airport, during a Sunday afternoon rainstorm and, gyrating madly with parts of wings and tail assemblies torn off, plunged to earth a mile and a half apart. The R.A.F. York transport crashed in a wooded area known as "Madness Hill."

Among those killed was Sir Edward Gent, successor to Sir Malcolm MacDonald, as British High Commissioner for the Federation of Malaya. Sir Edward was the lone passenger in the York, carrying six crew members. The Sky-master carried 25 passengers and seven crew members. There were no survivors.

The wreckage was strewn over a two-mile area. Eye witnesses told of a great explosion heard above the clouds—the ceiling was no more than 400 feet—and of further explosions when the crippled craft struck the ground. The victims' bodies were horribly mangled and, in most cases, were not immediately identifiable.

Lord Pakenham, recently appointed Minister of Civil Aviation, spent two hours at the scene of the crash viewing the wreckage. Inquiries by the R.A.F. and by civil authorities into the cause of the collision will open today or tomorrow.

Shortly before the collision, the pilot of the Swedish plane radioed that because of heavy rain and low clouds he intended to go back to Amsterdam.

Honor Teachers At Courtenay

COURTENAY—A highlight of Courtenay's Dominion Day celebration was the presentation of illuminated addresses to Miss Tess Callivan and Miss Anna Hildebrand, to mark their retirement after 30 years' work in Comox Valley schools.

F. T. Fairley, deputy minister of education, made the presentation while A. M. Hilton, who engaged the two teachers for Headquarters School in 1918, was principal speaker at the ceremony. A. J. Taylor, chairman of the school board of District No. 71 and Ald. R. T. Brown of Cumberland spoke. G. W. Stubbs was master of ceremonies.

The annual Dominion Day celebration was attended by 4,000 persons. There was a parade of 25 floats. Courtenay Soroptimist Club entered the prize-winning float.

Wood Will Likely Battle Kelly For Olympic Sculls Title

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, Eng. (CP)—Mervyn Wood of Australia today holds the Diamond Sculls championship, prize event of the singles sculling at the Royal Henley Regatta. Wood, a first-time entrant in the event, defeated Bertram Bushnell of England Saturday before some 30,000 fans. He wound up five lengths in front of the Briton, covering the distance in 8 minutes and 24 seconds.

It is believed that Wood will tangle with Jack Kelly of Philadelphia in the forthcoming Olympics. Kelly, who won the title last year but who did not enter the event this time, may row for the United States in the Olympics.

In the Grand Challenge Cup, Thames Rowing Club scored a surprise victory over Jesus College of Cambridge. Thames won by 2½ lengths in 7 minutes, 2 seconds.

Tahsis Mill Fire Loss May Mount To $1,000,000

A large sawmill and power plant of the Gibson Brothers' timber holdings at Tahsis in the Nootka district on the West Coast of Vancouver Island today was destroyed by fire and losses are expected to reach $1,000,000.

It was the second mill disaster of the week-end. Fire wiped out three mills of Western Forest Industries Limited lumber plant at Honeymoon Bay on Cowichan Lake and losses are estimated at $2,000,000.

The fire started in the early hours today. Flames were so intense, employees were unable to save any portion of the main mill or power house.

The fire fighters moved stacks of lumber out of the path of the flames.

Reports on the blaze up to press time were meagre.

First word of the fire came to Provincial Police headquarters in Victoria from the fish boat, Tahsis Chief, which sent out an alarm over short-wave radio. The report stated no one was injured and no homes are in danger.

The town of Tahsis, about one-half mile from the mill, was reported safe.

It was the second fire at the mill in two weeks. A large amount of lumber was lost earlier in a blaze which raged out of control until a sudden rain fell.

Homes near the millsite were endangered at that time.

Fire-fighting equipment was flown to the fire today from Vancouver.

Consider Rebuilding Razed Mills

At 1.45 this afternoon W.F.I. officials at Honeymoon Bay said only 30 employees of 500 have been retained following Saturday night's fire at the mills.

"We're paying them off now," a spokesman said. "The 30 will be employed in the shingle mill."

The shingle mill, untouched by the flames, is expected to be operating in 10 days when an auxiliary power plant is installed.

Talks on rebuilding the fire-swept Honeymoon Bay mills of Western Forest Industries Limited are being held in Vancouver today by company officials.

Three mills and the power plant of the company's holdings on the southern shore of Lake Cowichan were razed in a $2,000,000 fire Saturday night.

In a telephone call to the W.F.I. offices in Vancouver, the Times learned that owners who surveyed the ruins Sunday, are back on the mainland and now are studying loss reports with a view to rebuilding.

If it is decided to replace the burned-out mills of the plant, it is estimated the job will take at least a year to complete. Valuable machinery and equipment lost in the blaze will be difficult to replace.

LOSSIEMOUTH, Scotland (AP)—Two Royal Navy Seaforce fighter planes collided in flight today and crashed in flames 20 miles apart. One pilot was killed. The other parachuted to safety.

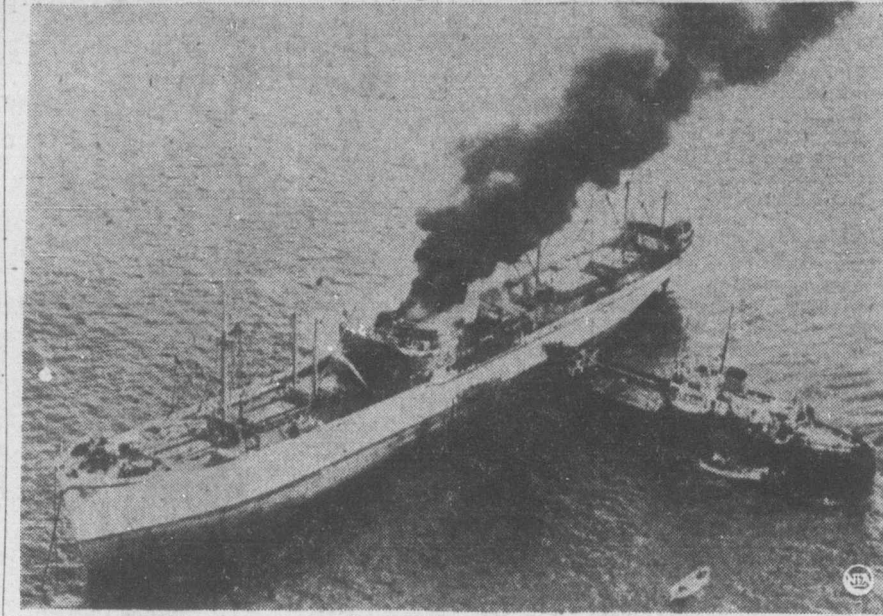

Aldershot Forgives Canadians For Riot

ALDERSHOT, Hampshire, Eng. (CP)—Residents of this old barracks town felt only goodwill towards Canadian soldiers today—third anniversary of a rampage by the Dominion's troops.

Three years ago Canadian troops broke 611 plate glass windows and 167 smaller panes in a riot protesting slow repatriation.

"There was a kind of good humor about the whole business," said D. Lewellyn Griffiths, town clerk. His daughter, Evelyn, married a Canadian, Capt. G. R. Bradshaw of Victoria, B.C., and now lives in London.

Crew Saved From Burning Vessel

Raging flames swept the 5,000-ton Swedish steamship Dagmar Salen 10 miles off the Delaware coast, but all members of its crew were saved after abandoning the vessel. Crew of 38, put off in two lifeboats, were picked up by a Coast Guard cutter, shown here.—NEA Telephoto.

Railmen Meet To Avert Strike Across Canada

MONTREAL (CP)—Frank H. Hall, chairman of the negotiating committee for 122,000 members of international brotherhoods threatening a July 15 rail strike, said today his committee expected to meet with the railways later in the day "to discuss wages."

Presumably the companies and unions were being brought together under auspices of a mediation board meeting here in an effort to avert a country-wide rail strike, but Hall declined further comment.

A spokesman for the board also said no comment would be issued until the end of the sittings, continuing since last Tuesday.

Mr. Hall denied a report, attributed to a union official, that spokesmen for the international brotherhoods would meet today with representatives of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (C.B.R.E.) to discuss counter-proposals made to the unions by the mediation board. He said no such counter-proposals had been made and no joint meeting was planned.

Girl 16, Thinks Quickly Rescues Plane Pilot

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—Quick-thinking of 16-year-old Yvonne Strachan of Toronto was credited today with saving the life of pilot Roy Archer when his plane crashed Saturday night at Six Mile Lake, 12 miles east of here.

Mrs. Peggy McLean, 35-year-old wife of a Prince George businessman, and her two sons, Donald, 7, and Sammy, 4, were killed in the crash.

Seconds before the plane went under water, Miss Strachan pulled Archer from the wreckage. He was semi-conscious and suffering from head injuries.

The Toronto girl, here on a holiday, was fishing so close to the falling plane that she was almost struck.

"I felt the spray as the plane hit the water," she said.

Miss Strachan spun her skiff around and rowed to the wreckage. After getting Archer into the boat, she gave him first aid, and then rowed 300 yards to shore.

The forward end of the plane was under water and she did not see the passengers.

Archer was brought to hospital here. His condition today was reported "good."

Britain, U.S. Step Up Flights Of Supplies To Blockaded Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—British and United States efforts to beat the Russian blockade of Berlin with a bridge of supply-carrying planes gained fresh momentum today.

The air forces of the two western Allies sent nearly 400 planes into the city Sunday from western Germany and were planning to keep up the pace.

Brig-Gen. Joseph Smith, commanding the U.S. Air Service, said although the crews are averaging only four or five hours sleep each day, they are maintaining a steady flying the planes with maximum efficiency.

Britain plans to use Sunderland flying boats to increase the tonnage being flown to Allied nationals and some 2,000,000 Germans in the western sectors of Berlin.

Eisenhower Silent As Boom For Presidency Goes Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who once talked Republicans out of throwing his hat into their presidential ring, watched silently today as a Democratic Ike-for-President boom surged forward at headlong speed.

President Truman—the man the Eisenhower supporters would replace as a party candidate—was silent too.

But as he headed for a Missouri speaking engagement, a top aide said the President was "absolutely convinced" nothing would come of moves to keep him from getting the nomination.

MORE THAN 100 VOTES

Although Mr. Truman was quoted as feeling much of the Eisenhower boom could be traced to Democrats who really were backing Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, the general's supporters could point to some concrete results of their drive.

Without a word of support from the retired army chief of staff, the number of delegates instructed to cast convention ballots for him climbed swiftly above the 100 mark, while additional Eisenhower voices were raised on all sides.

Saturday, 18 men at Philadelphia will assemble, representing 17 states which cast 568 of the 1,234 presidential nominating votes in the party convention opening there two days later. By telegram, they invited others to join them "to seek for the leader of our party today the ablest and strongest man available."

ODWYER TO ATTEND

The group of 18 includes such party leaders as Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York, Democratic leader Jacob Arvey of Chicago, James Roosevelt, California state chairman, Senator Hill of Alabama and Governors Tuck of Virginia, Jester of Texas and Thurmond of South Carolina.

There was no doubt the single leader they had in mind to replace Truman is Eisenhower.

Say Arabs, Jews Both Turn Down Peace Proposal

CAIRO (AP)—Both Arabs and Jews are reported on good authority today to have turned down a United Nations plan for lasting peace in Palestine, but United Nations mediator, Count Folke Bernadotte, still seems hopeful.

The Swedish count plans to fly from Rhodes to get the Jewish reply in Tel Aviv today or Tuesday. He was given the Arab answer in Cairo Saturday night.

The Arabs gave him a counter-proposal. Neutral diplomatic sources expect the Jews to do the same. The recommendations, not final, were offered only as a "basis for discussion."

A new outbreak of war threatened the Holy Land. The four-week truce arranged by Bernadotte is scheduled to end Friday.

Both sides prepared Sunday to fight again. In Jerusalem, the truce was broken for 12 hours as Jews and Arabs exchanged gunfire.

(In Rhodes, Count Bernadotte said he had asked the Jews and Arabs to extend the four-week truce. If the suggestion is accepted the length of the extended truce would be discussed.)

Hold Huge Picnic At Lake Ontario

HAMILTON (CP)—What the sponsors claim to be the largest industrial picnic in the British Empire is on today at Port Dalhousie on Lake Ontario. Ten thousand steel workers, their families and friends left by two steamships and a special 14-coach train for the 11th annual outing.

Canada Accepts Invitation To Discuss Plans For Security Of Western Europe

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government disclosed today it had accepted an invitation to participate in "exploratory" discussions in Washington looking towards security arrangements with western Europe.

This is the first official step taken by the countries of the western hemisphere towards associating themselves with the countries of the Western Union—Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg—under the United Nations' charter, in defence arrangements against the spread of communism across Europe.

It was understood the discussions would open in Washington tomorrow and would include the envoys of the Western Union countries as well as Canadian Ambassador Hume Wrong.

Announcing Canada's acceptance, the External Affairs Department said:

"The proposed Washington discussions, at this stage at least, will be purely exploratory and on the diplomatic, not the governmental level."

"The Canadian Ambassador in Washington has been asked to make himself available for that purpose. In these diplomatic discussions he will be assisted by officials of the Department of External Affairs as required from time to time."

In London Hector McNeil, minister of state, said in reply to a Parliamentary question that Canada would be in future fully associated with the U.S. and the five countries of the Western Union in discussing plans for regional defence.

This is regarded in London as assuring the continuity of the constitutional process of associating the United States with western defence if a Republican administration takes office in the United States after next November's presidential election.

The inclusion of Canada, it is argued here, not only links the already close military association of Canada and the United States through the Joint Defence Board with British and Western Union planning, but brings a valuable element of reciprocity to what was in danger of being interpreted as a one-day commitment by the United States to guarantee the military integrity of the Western Union.

Members Arriving For Flood Session Starting Wednesday

The special session of the Legislature on Fraser Valley floods, starting Wednesday, will not have the usual long debate on the Speech From the Throne.

Out-of-town members started arriving in Victoria today for the session, which is expected to last three days.

Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan, as administrator of the province in the absence of Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Banks, will open the session at 3 Wednesday afternoon. The formal opening ceremony will lack most of the color that regular sessions of the Legislature bring.

After the Chief Justice has read the Speech From the Throne, Byron Johnson will make a statement, explaining the purpose of the session. It is expected that legislation then will be introduced.

Returning to the marble-pillared Legislative Chamber at 10 Thursday morning, the 48 members will begin debating the legislation introduced on the opening day. It is expected the session will end Friday night, with three sittings a day Thursday and Friday.

Mr. Speaker R. H. Carson, who represents Kamloops, and C.C.F. Opposition Leader Harold E. Winch were among those arriving in the capital today.

29 Dead, 63 Hurt In India Rioting

BOMBAY (AP)—Twenty-nine persons were killed and at least 63 injured in Hindu-Muslim rioting here Sunday night. A majority of the victims taken to the morgue appeared to be Hindus. The fiercest fighting occurred in Mahabowli, where police opened fire to disperse rioters. Order was restored in Bombay today.

Yugoslav Communists Set Stage For Policy Showdown

LONDON (AP)—Yugoslav Communists appeared today to have set the stage for an eastern European showdown on the policies of Premier Marshal Tito, in the Communist camp or seek partnership with the west.

Tanjung, official Yugoslav news agency, said all Communist parties have been invited to attend the fifth congress of Yugoslavia's Communist Party in Belgrade July 21.

The agency's announcement came only a few hours after a Bulgarian newspaper had bluntly called on Yugoslavs to say whether they planned to remain in the Communist camp or seek partnership with the west.

It was a question which also puzzled the rest of Europe. While Tito's government engaged in disputes with the some of the other powers in the Russian sphere, Yugoslav newspapers kept thumping the drums in praise of Russia.

Coal Mines Owned By U.S. Steel Seem Headed For Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—All signs pointed today to a soft coal strike in mines owned by United States steel companies.

Annual vacation of nearly 400,000 soft coal miners will end at midnight tonight, but the 40,000 employed in the so-called "captive" steel company mines are not expected to go back to work without a contract.

The steel industry balked at giving John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers the union shop arrangement signed by the commercial coal industry. The mine-owning steel mills said they were willing to go along with other contract provisions—a dollar-a-day pay increase and doubling of the miners' 1947 10-cent-a-ton welfare fund royalty.

Government lawyers indicated they will wait for a strike to develop before making any court move to stop it.

Under a union shop, all employees must join the union within a specified time.

HOW FREE ELECTIONS WORK

ONE OF THE MOST SIGNIFICANT truths which last week's general election in Finland has abundantly emphasized is that when the electors are permitted to vote secretly according to their political and ideological convictions they bestow their favors largely on those candidates who subscribe to democratic procedure. Russia was not allowed polling booth "direction" in either Italy or in the Baltic republic. Communists in both lands could do no more than follow the traditional process which marks the electoral system still prevailing where regimentation is not yet accepted as a substitute for representation.

While final details for all districts are not quite complete as this is written, returns already available indicate that the Communist-led so-called Popular Democrats—a brew of Communists and the Socialist Union—have lost at least 11 seats, which will give them 38 in the next Parliament of 200, against 49 in the last House. The Social Democrats have gained five, giving them 55 compared with 50, while the Agrarians, by picking up six new seats for a total of 56, also compared with 50 in the former Parliament, will rank as the largest single party in the next Eduskunta. The balance of the people's choice is made up of Finnish Conservatives and Liberals and others. Roughly speaking, therefore, another interpretation of the election is reflected by the fact that the influence which the treaty of friendship and mutual assistance signed this spring in Moscow by Finland and the Soviet Union—at Marshal Stalin's "invitation"—did not "click" very well in the polling booths. Thirty-eight Communists against 162 other lawmakers in the legislature will not find it easy going, notwithstanding the fact that political prudence may determine the continuance of a coalition ministry and discourage any substantial change in foreign policy under prevailing circumstances.

It should be noted for the record, incidentally, that the Popular Democrats, or Democratic Union, despite its misleading name, is not a party. It is an organization, for promoting collaboration of all leftist groups, even if not Socialists. Thus it now includes the official Communist Party and the Socialist Union Party, besides several semi-political bodies. It derives a good deal of its support from radical intellectual circles—an element by no means unknown in Canada. The Social Democrats, on the other hand, are constitutionalists, while the Agrarians are advocates of individual enterprise, a Centre Party pledged to the promotion of the interests of the rural population, particularly that of the small farmers, a creed far from palatable to the totalitarian planners.

TWO WHO CHANGED SIDES

A SAILOR GIVING HIS NAME AS Reginald Hubbard, and claiming to have been born in Canada, has made headlines in the Russian press by renouncing his British citizenship and applying for naturalization in the U.S.S.R. That is a privilege which presumably is open to any Communist sympathizer but which, surprisingly, is taken advantage of by very few. In fact we can think of no other similar example at the moment. But it is with Mr. Hubbard's comments on his life heretofore, rather than with his expectations of life from now on, that we are particularly interested.

Having now reached the age of 43, he says he has had to stay single all his life because he could not afford to marry. It may be that Mr. Hubbard has been singularly unsuccessful in making a living—although many merchant seamen appear to be supporting households ashore—but it would seem reasonable that at some time during the last, say, 23 years, he must have been at least once in a financial position to enter matrimony. Recalling highly successful marriages that have been started on a shoestring and high hopes, we wonder if something more than economics has kept Mr. Hubbard from making the plunge.

But since he has not, we must assume that most of what he has earned during his working years has been available to spend upon himself. This makes it increasingly difficult to understand his complaint that he has never been able to afford an education. He says that when his father, an engineer and "a Canadian consul in the United States from 1913 to 1922," lost his job, the son "had to abandon my dream of getting educated and start working for my living." Thousands of young Canadians who have worked their way through university by doing any job that came to hand will look askance at Mr. Hubbard's confession of failure. The fact that Canada had no consuls in the United States during the years 1913 to 1922 raises further queries to whether the ex-British citizen knows just what he is talking about.

However, taking the most charitable view, and assuming that Mr. Hubbard was dogged by ill-luck throughout his life, we still hold many doubts about the reality of his contention that in the Soviet Union he will find happiness and joy for the rest of his days. Admittedly, he may find job security, which he says he has never enjoyed heretofore. But it may be that too much can be paid for that commodity. Mr. George Levich, who formerly was the captain of a Russian merchant vessel, and who seized the opportunity to jump ship in Vancouver several years ago, has given the other side of the picture to a Victoria audience. Last week he described conditions in the land from which he had escaped: "Everyone is in a strait jacket. Once you are in a job, you must stay there—there is no such thing as changing jobs... there is no such thing as a free man in Russia." Somehow, Mr. Levich appeals to us more than does Mr. Hubbard. We'd like to hear from the latter about five years from now.

WILL "IKE" WILT?

WILL GENERAL DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER reverse his original decision and permit his name to be submitted to the delegates in attendance at the Democratic Party's convention which is to begin its deliberations in Philadelphia a week from today? This question again becomes pertinent; first, because Mr. Truman's followers, rightly or wrongly, seem to be obsessed with the conviction that the present incumbent at the White House has little hope of defeating New York's Governor Thomas E. Dewey next November; second, because an Associated Press round-up during the week-end has discovered the "We-Want-Ike" sentiment developing in various parts of the country at a "feverish" pace. All this despite the fact that as far back as last January the man who led the Allied forces to victory in Europe nearly three years ago said: "I am not available for and could not accept nomination to high political office," and "my decision to remove myself from the political scene is definite and positive."

So far as the public knows, General Eisenhower has not changed his mind, is implacable in his resolve to devote himself to the important task he has undertaken as President of Columbia University, and does not propose to be swayed by the new manifestation of his popularity—regardless of not of whether he may interpret it at this juncture as a mixture of popular emotionalism and party psychology. Some partisan soothsayers and not a few newspapers, of course, lose no opportunity of reading into the frequent meetings of "Ike" and Mr. George E. Allen—often ungraciously referred to as the ex-White House "jester"—a good deal more than is warranted by the circumstances. These two are firm friends, have been for a long time, and play golf together on every possible occasion—probably indulging in the traditional locker-room yarns and ballads with those whose comings and goings are not the subject of the chronicler.

It is not the business of Canada or Canadians to express hopes or to embark upon gratuitous advice to our good neighbors as they are about to produce the second act of the quadrennial political drama. But there is nothing against our suggesting that both General "Ike" and President Truman must be experiencing not a little embarrassment as they note a revival of the "Draft Eisenhower" cry—embellished as it is with broad hints that the chief executive step down and that Columbia's new president disregard his personal inclinations to give the Democrats what they believe would be a substantial advantage over the Republicans next November. By the same token, however, we on the north side of the 49th parallel would not be human did we fail to show our interest in this aspect of the party whose delegates will be called upon to settle the matter next week.

CRADLE TO GRAVE

PERHAPS THE MOST FAR-REACHING program of public welfare the world has seen got under way in Britain today with inauguration of the "cradle to grave" social security plan. Under the $3,000,000,000 scheme every Briton now is eligible for medical care, hospitalization, drugs, dental treatment, sick benefits, maternity allowances, unemployment benefits, children's allowances, industrial injury payments, old age pensions and death grants. In return, each workingman must pay about $1 a week into the national fund. His employer will contribute a slightly smaller amount, and the government, out of tax revenue, will add a sum about equal to their combined total. The program will cost nearly $300,000,000 a year.

The payments for various benefits are, by our living standards, not particularly high. Single unemployed men, for instance, will receive $5.20 a week, married men an additional $3.20. Single men's sick benefits will also amount to $5.20 a week. A married couple with one child will receive $9.90. But the plan in essence covers practically every contingency from birth to death, and will provide a background of basic security for those who most need it.

A number of obstacles will hamper full implementation of the program at the outset. About one-third of the general practitioners in Britain have refused to place their services at the public's disposal and few dentists have given their approval. In addition, hospital facilities are not ample enough to meet the demand, and material shortages are delaying building extensions. In spite of these adverse factors, however, the government is determined to put the project in motion and improve it as time goes on. In Canada, and particularly in British Columbia, where a number of benefits corresponding to the British plan are in operation, the progress of the scheme will be watched with interest.

Soviet Forced Labor

By WICKHAM STEED, Former Editor of The Times of London

OF ALL THE PROBLEMS which worry Western statesmen and peoples, the problem of Soviet Russia is the most persistent and acute. It is even more acute than the anxious question of whether things are moving towards peace or war; for if the Russian problem could be stated in terms reassuring to the West the idea of war would recede into the dim background. So plain is this fact that three public men of acknowledged authority in Western lands—Field Marshal Smuts of South Africa, President Truman of the U.S.A. and Dr. Antonio Salazar, Prime Minister of Portugal since 1932—have dwelt upon it in important speeches.

THE PROBLEM ITSELF has not been simplified by rumors that the rulers of Soviet Russia may be contemplating a change in the tactics which have hitherto seemed to justify the epigram that the foreign policy of the Soviet Union is: "All mischief, short of war." So widespread is the distrust of Russia that the hypothesis of a change in her tactics is discussed in a spirit of doubt whether, after having failed to wreck the European Recovery Program by open opposition, she would not be trying by apparently co-operative yet subtly obstructive methods to hamper its application.

THE HYPOTHESIS of impending change in Russian tactics has not been rendered more tenable by the resignation of President Benes of Czechoslovakia and his replacement by a Communist nominee. The imposition of a Communist constitution—which President Benes firmly refused to sign—upon a people preponderantly non-Communist, whom Thomas Masaryk and Edward Benes restored to freedom after three centuries of servitude, has strengthened the suspicion of Russian aims in every Western democratic country. It has also accentuated the misgivings of Western Socialists, many of whom clung tenaciously to the belief that Russian Communism was, after all, merely a somewhat advanced form of Social Democracy.

FOREMOST AMONG SOCIALISTS of this confiding type in Britain were the editors of an English weekly review, "The New Statesman and Nation." Even before Britain's Foreign Secretary welcomed the Marshall Plan and Soviet Russia opposed it, they accused Mr. Bevin of siding with the U.S.A. against Russia and of subordinating Britain's foreign policy to that of Washington. The Russo-Communist coup in Czechoslovakia and the subsequent death of Jan Masaryk surprised them disagreeably and caused them to wonder whether they might not have been mistaken. On May 15, the "New Statesman and Nation" published a review of a new book amounting to an indictment of the Soviet Union called "Forced Labor in Soviet Russia." It allowed the reviewer—one of Britain's most competent writers on Russian affairs—to express his conviction that slave labor forms an essential part of the Russian Communist system and to conclude that "forced labor as an institution could not now be abolished quickly without ruining the Soviet economy."

AGAINST THIS DAMAGING conclusion a partisan of Soviet Russia, who bears the not very British name of Rothstein, protested vehemently, declaring that the author of "Forced Labor in Soviet Russia" had not produced a single piece of evidence in support of his indictment. Other competent writers then dealt severely with Mr. Rothstein and charged him with not having made, in his protest, a single statement that would bear examination. This controversy has now lasted several weeks; and it leaves me, who am always ready to weigh evidence for or against any opinion I may hold, with the impression that many millions of unhappy human beings are undoubtedly herded by Communist Russia into camps where they are forced to labor, often to die, under conditions far worse than Tsarist Russia inflicted upon its political exiles.

I LEARNED SOMETHING of Tsarist conditions both from revolutionary exiles and from other political offenders who had escaped from or survived them. Even as described by Lenin's widow—hardly an unbiased authority—in her account of Lenin's exile in Siberia, they were not barbarously cruel. I doubt whether the same could truthfully be said of conditions in Soviet forced labor camps today. Apologists of Soviet Russia denounce such a doubt as unwarranted and malicious. But so long as Soviet rulers refuse to publish any statistics of their slave laborers or to permit any inspection of the camps, protests and denunciations can carry little weight. Meanwhile the chief editor of the "New Statesman and Nation," who has been allowed to visit Communist Hungary, has recorded some impressions of his visit.

UNDOUBTEDLY, the editor's impressions are enlightening. Hungary, he says, is undergoing a "forcible conversion" to a new Communist religion. And the effect of his experience was to deter him from repeating to an English-speaking audience at Budapest the criticisms of Mr. Bevin which he has printed each week in London. Instead, he tried to explain the difficulties which confront the United Kingdom Government today and the strength of Britain's tradition of moderation, compromise and fair play which extends to the working class. His remarks pleased the greater part of his audience but sorely disappointed Communist zealots. Perhaps he may now revise his opinion of the new Communist "religion."

Another Trap?

Contrasting The Platforms

By PETER EDSON from Washington

POLITICAL platforms never mean much, but there's a whale of a difference between the G.O.P. principles of 1944 and 1948—on paper.

Foreign policy planks drafted for submission to this year's convention are far broader. Four years ago the big idea was to secure peace, but "not by joining a world state." This year's platform calls for strengthening United Nations. It says, "The United Nations should progressively establish international law, be freed of any veto... and be provided with armed services." That's giving the despised world government idea quite a lift. It also calls for "universal limitation of arms."

ARMED SERVICES

The 1944 G.O.P. platform called for bringing the boys home at the earliest possible moment. The 1948 platform calls for strengthening the armed services, even to the extent of "recognizing the principle that every citizen has an obligation of service to his country." That could mean both the draft and universal military training, though neither is mentioned by name. The emphasis four years ago was on building up the National Guard to get "adequate defence to insure security."

Foreign co-operation on a basis of mutual aid and self-help is promised this year. There is even a plug for reciprocal trade agreements, after safeguarding American industry and agriculture. In 1944 the Republicans came out flatly for return to protective tariffs.

On domestic policies the G.O.P. has also changed. In 1944 it said the Secretary of Labor should be a representative of labor. There's no such statement in 1948. The 80th Congress cut the department way down.

LABOR LAWS

In 1944 as before when Republicans were claiming they could run New Deal reforms better than Democrats, the G.O.P. platform accepted the purpose of the Wagner Act, Wage and Hour Law, Social Security and all other statutes aimed to promote the welfare of American workmen.

Match that against Tait-Hartley Act passage last year and the 1948 platform which says labor has a right to strike if it doesn't interfere with public health and safety, and that when the government intervenes it should be to prevent violence and force obedience to law.

Bigger social security payments are promised, but broader coverage is ducked in promises to promote prosperity so people won't need it.

The two housing planks are about alike, calling for federal aid to states where private enterprise can't meet the need, and mean little.

The long farm plank of 1944 has been shortened to one shingle in 1948. They're pretty much the same, except that four years ago the platform builders were worried about surpluses and against subsidies. This year they're all out for price supports and soil conservation.

Inflation was no worry in 1944. The G.O.P. platform then promised only to get rid of controls. This year the existence of "cruelly high prices" is recognized, but the best the Republicans can promise to bring them down is by cutting the cost of government and stimulating production, while reducing the public debt and providing sound money.

ANTI-COMMUNIST

There was no anti-communist plank in 1944 but there is in 1948. Civil Rights planks are about the same and so are the old standbys of sop for the west, Latin-America, vets, small business and equal rights.

But there are now planks for development of water power, return of tidelands to the states and revision of procedure for election of President and Vice-President to reflect more exactly the popular vote. If they just put over that one it will be worth the price.

Global Survey

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

THE MOSCOW-CONTROLLED cominform's castigation of Yugoslavia's colorful and powerful leader, Marshal Tito, has backfired in a manner which might produce an upheaval in the Soviet hierarchy and affect the succession to the dictatorship when Stalin relinquishes it.

Yugoslav Communists have taken the surprising action of appealing straight to Marshal Stalin to repudiate the cominform charges. Tito supporters declare hotly that these charges are lies and that Stalin ought to slash them off the record.

It's tantamount to calling on Stalin to repudiate one of Communism's greatest figures—a personality who has been mentioned often as a possible successor to the Russian dictatorship. The man in the jam is, of course, Col. Gen. Andrei Zhdanov, hero of the 29-month siege of Leningrad by the Germans in the Second World War, and long at the right hand of the big boss.

Zhdanov in 1943 signed the resolution dissolving the cominform, the general staff for world revolution, as a gesture calculated to convince the world that global revolution was dead. And it is he who is credited with being the papa of the new cominform, which objective observers generally regard as being in reality a revival of the comintern.

If Stalin repudiated this man he would create a seven-day Communist scandal. If the Generalissimo doesn't repudiate the cominform, then the breach between Yugoslavia and Moscow will be widened with far-reaching consequences.

But that isn't the whole story. Unless Stalin himself authorized the cominform action against Tito, somebody is responsible for putting the big boss on the spot. And report long has had it that anyone who created trouble for the dictator paid a heavy price.

One should note here, however, that Zhdanov has encountered difficulties before and has come through with flag flying.

MISDIRECTED ABUSES

Calgary Herald

Old age pensions will be increased when the taxpayers of Canada make it clear that they want them to be increased and (more important) that they are willing to pay whatever it costs to increase them. They, not the cruel Mr. King or the malevolent Mr. Hiesley, are the people to whom the old age pension lobby should direct its appeals and abuse.

COMBATING NUISANCES

Halifax Herald

A paragraph puts it this way: "If your neighbor keeps his radio going full blast until 2 a.m., give him a ring at 4 a.m. and tell him how much you enjoyed it."

While it is not justifiable in law to meet a nuisance with a nuisance, one could imagine a magistrate taking a lenient view in the matter. Particularly a magistrate who had been kept awake by his neighbor's radio.

Perhaps if more of these nuisance-makers were brought to the attention of the authorities, there would be less nuisance-making.

VALUABLE PUBLICITY

Windsor Star

The value of publicity, even of bad publicity, should never be underrated. Perhaps in no other field does the adage about an ill wind prove true so often.

Take, for instance, the recent adopted children scandal in New Brunswick. It was bad publicity, all right, but look what's come of it. Now the Saint John Children's Aid Society and Deputy Attorney-General D. B. MacLachy have met to discuss new regulations regarding the boarding and adoption of children.

And so the press, by publicizing something bad, has sown the seed for something good.

SENSIBLE STEP

Toronto Globe and Mail

The decision of the Advisory Salary Committee of the Toronto Board of Education to lift the maximum salaries of women teachers to the level enjoyed by the men was simple justice. Both have the same basic qualifications for teaching, and both do the same sort of work. Responsibility is in every respect equal, in that no difference is made because of sex in the number or intelligence of the children taught. It stands to reason that if a woman becomes a principal she is qualified for the same salary a man would get in the same school, or she should not be given the post.

Canadian Brains Found Australia Industry

Australia News

CANADA cast her brains upon the waters 60 years ago. Today they are returning in the shape of thousands of Australian dried fruits, huge golden sultanas, lexiass (pudding raisins) and sweet dark currants.

In 1886 the brothers George and W. B. Chaffey, who had grown up around Brockville, Ontario (there is, by the way, a Chaffey's Lock on the Rideau Canal), went to Australia and initiated at Mildura, Victoria, the use of the waters of the River Murray for irrigation. The first bulk shipments for the 1948 season of dried fruits, grown in the Murray Valley, have just reached Canada.

ALL IN ONE AREA

The Murray Valley is the only place in the world where sultana raisins, lexiass and currants grow side by side. Elsewhere currants grow in one region and the raisins at the sun, as Crusoe called them, in another.

The rainfall at Mildura is only about 10 inches a year but the waters of the river give the chain of irrigation settlements which have, as a result of the pioneer efforts of the Chaffeys, grown up along 600 miles of the river's length, give the equivalent of a rainfall of 50 inches a year. Incidentally, one of the things that the growers fear most is a fall of rain in the picking and drying season. Happily, it hardly ever comes.

Today the Murray River settlements grow 100,000 tons of dried fruit a year. Of this a generous share has been allotted to export to Canada. It all 80 per cent of the crop goes to British Empire markets.

The industry obtained its real start between 1914 and 1919, when the war hit exports from Greece and Turkey. Australian dried fruits were stepped up to 10,000 tons a year by the war's end. But by 1920 Turkey and Greece were again in production and, although the Australian fruit was good in quality, the growers of the older countries had secrets which those in the Antipodes did not know.

The secrets, however, were brought to Australia by Greeks who emigrated. They showed how the drying should be done, and the rich, golden, smoothly finished raisins which Australia produced as a result of their work, financed by the Australian Dried Fruits Association, immediately attracted higher prices than fruit from Greece. These raisins have held a pre-eminent position in the esteem of buyers ever since.

Learning from Greece, but im-

Tourist Bait

Financial Post

If we ever hope to develop a real tourist industry in Canada, better accommodation is imperative. We can't expect Americans to come here year after year and spend their money on greasy meals, lumpy beds and outdoor plumbing. A respectable pig would refuse to enter some of the shacks along our highways that are labeled tourist cabins.

proving on the older methods, the Australian producer has introduced many new features.

INVENTIVENESS

Packing sheds have never yet produced sufficient seeded raisins to meet the world demand. Now 95 per cent of the Australian lexia crop is converted to seeded raisins, and here Australian inventiveness has had another triumph.

Perforation of the skins to remove the seeds used to cause crystallization because of the high sugar content of this raisin, but a machine devised in Melbourne now flattens each raisin gently with rubber bands, which draws the moisture by steam heat, draws the seeds through the skin, and then by friction restores the raisin to its original shape.

Constant research through the Council for Scientific and Industrial Research and constant activity by the Australian Dried Fruits Association keeps the efficiency of this industry right up to the minute to attain the best possible results; for Australia is proud of its dried fruits industry and the paradise which has come from the Chaffeys' work on the Murray.

When it comes to nutrition, one pound of Australian raisins is equal in nutritional value to six pounds of apples, five pounds of bananas, four pounds of milk, or two pounds of eggs—to say nothing of a pound and a third of beef or four and three-quarters pounds of fish! And apart from that raisins and currants are really nice to eat.

Honeymoon Bay Lumber Mill Fire One Of Worst In Vancouver Island History

This is where the $2,000,000 Honeymoon Bay mill fire started. It raged three and a half hours out of control and covered 12,000 square feet. A section of the powerhouse can be seen in the background. The pumping plant was put out of operation immediately, hampering efforts of firefighters.

Freight cars were burned but Hillcrest mill volunteers managed to pull a locomotive to safety with a bulldozer. Some of the boxcars were loaded with lumber, some with firewood. In the picture, Fire Warden Bob Taylor, retired deputy fire chief of Victoria Fire Department, shows Times reporter course of the flames.

Piles of lumber, mostly pine, went up in smoke. Some stacks still were burning late Sunday. About 500,000 board feet of lumber were consumed in the flames. Nearly as much was carried away from the fire by Ross carrier and loading machine crews who braved intense heat. The main loading shed and platform of the plant was saved.

Skiff Capsizes; 1 Dead, 8 Saved

SEATTLE (AP) — One man drowned and eight other persons, including three small children, were rescued when their small motor skiff capsized in Puget Sound Sunday during a sudden squall.

Dead is Thomas P. Angelos, 22, of Tacoma.

Survivors said the skiff overturned 400 yards from shore near Maury Island, spilling them into the cold Sound water. The accident occurred during a holiday outing.

3 Injured In Blast

PORT LUDLOW, Wash. (AP) — Three of six persons aboard the Seattle yacht Pal-O-Mine were slightly injured Sunday when a gasoline stove in the cabin exploded and wrecked the hull.

The pleasure craft sank within two minutes at its anchorage among 35 other ships in the inner harbor here.

Hurt in the blast were the owner, Harry L. Kaysser and three friends.

British Production Amazes Woodward

VANCOUVER (CP) — Hon. W. C. Woodward, former British Columbia Lieutenant-Governor, said Sunday he believes "the dogged tenacity of the English people is resulting in possibly their greatest production records of potteries and textiles in history."

Returning with Mrs. Woodward from a three-month visit to the United Kingdom and Sweden, he said: "The strides the English people are making in reconstruction work are truly amazing."

Ortiz Registers Eighth-Round Kayo

MEXICALI, Mex. (AP) — Manuel Ortiz of El Centro, Calif., successfully defended his world bantamweight title for the 18th time last night by knocking out Memo Valero, Mexican champion, in the eighth round.

Close to 500 mill workers are out of work because of the fire. One group is shown standing outside the plant's machine shop waiting for word from company officials on plans for the future. Some of the single workers pulled up stakes immediately to find jobs elsewhere.

Man Taken Back To Wisconsin On Charge

EDMONTON (CP)—John J. Hoffman, charged with the May 24 murder of his wife at Mauston, Wis., today was en route to that United States centre in custody of a R.C.M.P. constable and Mauston County officials. He waived extradition proceedings.

In Mauston, he will be arraigned on the murder charge and a preliminary hearing will decide whether he should be committed to a jury trial. If convicted, he would be liable to a maximum penalty of life imprisonment. Wisconsin has no death penalty.

The former Melville, Sask., man was taken into custody at Hythe, Alta., 240 miles northwest of Edmonton, Friday, after Chief Justice W. R. Howson of the Supreme Court of Alberta had authorized his arrest under the Extradition Act.

N.H.A. Design Of The Month

Here is a six-roomed brick veneer house only 28 feet by 22 feet that has been planned to avoid the box-like appearance of many small house designs. The wide Dutch dormer across the front provides a pleasant break to the roof and, with hall space kept to a minimum, rooms are more spacious than is usually the case in houses of similar size. The kitchen features an efficient U-type arrangement of fixtures at one end and dining space at the opposite end, a boon to the busy housewife. The two front windows allow a plentiful supply of natural light and fresh air in the living-room. For estimating purposes, the floor area of the house is approximately 1,069 square feet. Complete construction drawings for this plan, known as Design No. 196, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

Claxton Strikes Back At Russia For Charges Of Fomenting War

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Claxton Sunday night suggested the Soviet Union look into its own back yard first before it accused other countries of fomenting a new war.

The defence minister who had told the Commons that Russia currently was the only possible aggressor against Canada, fought back against an attack by the Moscow army newspaper, Red Star.

"The hope of future peace lies not in what the Soviet Union says about us but in what the Soviet Union does," the defence minister said in an interview with the Canadian Press.

Red Star had asserted Saturday "government circles in Canada not only are not combating the war hysteria kindled in the nation but themselves are actively stepping forth in the unenviable role of propagandists for a new war."

It described as "a provocateur's pipe dream" the declaration by Canada's defence chief that "the only possible aggressor is the Soviet Union."

Everyone knows that Canada is not a country which has about 4,000,000 men under arms," the defence minister said.

Further, "Canada has not used the veto 26 times to obstruct international co-operation and has not taken under her domination nearly a dozen countries."

Mr. Claxton referred to the amount of money Russia was Three reserve army heavy anti-aircraft units from the prairie provinces arrived in Victoria Sunday evening to begin a week's firing practice from gun positions in this area.

The units, comprising approximately 200 men, arrived by special boat from the mainland and were taken to Work Point by motor transport following their arrival here.

Regt., with sub units from Melville, Canora, Foam Lake, Saltcoats and Kamsack, Sask., under the command of Maj. A. T. B. Gilbert.

The units will commence firing practice Tuesday and will continue until they leave Saturday for their headquarters.

Similar summer camp training will be begun by local regiments July 11.

To Mark Farewell
As Last Run Ends

The rattle of streetcars was not heard in Victoria this morning for after the last scheduled runs last night the cars were taken to the car barns and retired. On the streets this morning their places were taken by buses.

Before residents along the Beacon Hill line take the cotton batting out of their ears, however, they should be warned that the clang of the trolley will be heard in their neighborhood again tonight around 6.

Not quite ready for the Valhalla, where all good streetcars go, one of the cars is out to have one last fling at breaking up city streets.

Being understanding souls, officials of the B.C. Electric are going along with the gag. They have arranged—in view of the solemnity of the occasion—to have the car bedecked with black crepe paper.

They have also invited civic officials and Chamber of Commerce representatives go along for the ride, and to attend "a ceremony to fittingly observe the tragic occasion" to be held at the Langley Street offices of the company at 5.15.

12 Parties Line Up For General Election This Week In Holland

THE HAGUE (Reuter) — Twelve political parties will contest Holland's general election July 7 and 8, when the people will also vote on four proposed amendments to the constitution. The most important amendment provides for a new political structure giving new status and powers to the component parts of Indonesia and the various territories of The Netherlands Indies.

Although this is the main issue, it is believed Communism may become one of the dominant factors at a later stage in the campaign.

Other amendments provide for speedy action against any form of incipient totalitarianism, the award of an annual state income for Queen Wilhelmina when she abdicates next September, and the creation of state secretaries to assist cabinet ministers.

The amendments have been passed by parliament, but under the constitution must be ratified by the electorate. The new government must then submit them to the new parliament, which must approve them by a two-thirds majority.

Of the 12 parties contesting the election for the 100 seats in the second chamber or lower house, seven took part in the 1946 general election.

Body Of Seattle Girl Found In Suburban Park

SEATTLE (AP)—A nine-year-old girl, apparently slain during a game of hide and seek, was found dead Sunday in the brushy area of a north end suburban park.

Sheriff's officers identified her as Ellen Jane Fulwiler, Seattle. The cause of her death was not immediately determined.

Dirt and leaves had been piled on the youngster's body. The face was bruised and the chin gashed.

The girl had been playing hide and seek with other children at the park and disappeared during a final game. Her partially covered body was only 200 yards from the picnic area.

DOWN GOES THE HEMLINE, UP GO THE SIGNS—Betty Friars, right, of Saginaw, Mich., models the newest look, with the hemline just about dragging along the ground. The skirt she's wearing was designed by Christian Dior, Parisian stylist, who first thought up the "New Look." The style show, on the Lansing, Mich., campus of Michigan State College, excites interest among the men students, but the reaction, as expressed by the signs, is mostly negative.

JET-AGE CHILD'S PLAY—Only a couple of puffs behind his jet-propelled elders, this London youth gets ready to send his model jet airplane soaring. The English-made plane is powered by a tiny jet cartridge claimed to produce speeds of over 30 miles per hour. Fuel/burns without flame or sparks, is non-explosive, and said to be perfectly safe for children to handle.

Old Man In California Is Jesse James, Says Jennings

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Al Jennings, the oldtime Oklahoma train robber, was brought face to face Sunday with a Texan who says he's Jesse James—and exclaimed "It's him!"

Jennings, 85, took one long look at J. Frank Dalton, or James. His voice choked and his eyes filled with tears as he turned to reporters.

"It's him," said Jennings. "That's the face. My word of honor. Boys, there ain't a bit of doubt on earth. This here is Jesse James!"

San Leandro civic officials brought Dalton here by plane to feature their Independence Day Rodeo. As an added fillip, they invited Jennings to come, too. Jennings, who took to the lecture circuit after his imprisonment a generation ago, lives in southern California.

Dalton's story resurrecting the old outlaw, supposedly long amouling in a Missouri grave, first was made public several months ago.

Jennings said before the meeting he could prove whether the old man was Jesse James by a single question dealing with a "shootin' match" of long ago on a ranch in west Texas. The only person who knew about that match, he said, were himself, one other man and Jesse James.

As the two met, the eyes of both filled with tears. "Do you know me, Jesse?" asked Jennings.

The other nodded his head vigorously. His voice broke as he said: "You bet. You won a shootin' match on the old C Dot E ranch."

Jennings grabbed him by the hand. History says Jesse was killed at St. Joseph, Mo., in April, 1882, by Bob Ford, a member of his gang.

Dalton says that's all nonsense, that the man Ford killed was "a Pinkerton feller named Charlie Bigelow." After the shooting, he said, he decided to disappear.

30 Vice-Presidents For 29-Mile Railway
LANCASTER, S.C. (CP)—There's a railroad in South Carolina with more vice-presidents than miles of track.

The L. and C. Railroad, which runs 29 miles from Lancaster to Chester, has 30 vice-presidents. It also lists three surgeons, a consulting physician and a marine superintendent, although far from any port.

The vice-presidents include Air Marshal W. A. "Billy" Bishop, Canadian First Great War air ace. All of them are friends of Elliott Springs, president of the road.

Springs has lots of fun handing out titles. The names almost fill up the L. and C. letterhead. The road does most of its business bringing raw material and coal to seven cotton textile mills which Springs also owns, and hauling out cotton goods to the Southern Railway at Chester.

Once it used to carry passengers—but not since 1913. That was when four coaches of the little line were in a wreck. Now it runs two regular freights daily except Sunday.

RAINBOW SEA CADETS
Ship's company will parade Friday at 19.30 at headquarters, R.C.S.C. Rainbow. Duty division on Friday will be Fraser division, duty officer will be Mid. H. Sutherland.

15 Men Smash Steamship Office

HAMILTON (CP)—Fifteen masked men, brandishing baseball bats, smashed their way into the offices of the Canada Steamship Lines about 12.30 a.m. Sunday, ripped telephones from the wall, threatened night watchmen and indicated they intended to board the freighter Battiford, moored at the wharf alongside.

After entering the office, watchmen said, the men raced toward the Battiford, but were restrained by a locked gate on a six-foot wire fence. They loitered for a few minutes, then disappeared.

Joseph Davis, a night watchman, said members of the party spoke of boarding the freighter, but did not identify themselves in any way.

Mr. and Mrs. William Luney Motor To Seaside, Oregon

A honeymoon at Seaside, Ore., is planned by William Ernest Luney and his bride, the former Miss Kathleen Leona Stromkins, who exchanged marriage vows at a ceremony in Metropolitan United Church Saturday evening.

Dr. A. E. Whitehouse officiated at the ceremony which united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stromkins, Selkirk Avenue, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Luney, Cook Street.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin. An off-the-shoulder effect was created by scallops on the round-necked yoke of the fitted bodice, and the full skirt was slightly in train.

Flowers in her hair to match those in her bouquet held her full-length veil, and she wore a double strand of pearls given her by the groom.

Mrs. D. J. Muir was her sister's matron of honor and wore peach whispering taffeta, with a low round neckline and apron pleats on the front of the skirt draped into a bustle at the back. Bridesmaid Miss Sheila Burnett wore a similar gown of blue taffeta, and both senior attendants wore picture hats to match their dresses. For her flower girl role Miss Doreen Luney, the groom's sister, wore mauve moire taffeta, fashioned with gathered bodice, puffed sleeves and full skirt. All three attendants wore matching mitts and carried colonial bouquets.

Robert Luney was best man for his brother, and another brother, Gordon Luney, ushered with the bride's brother, Paul Stromkins Jr. Soloist was Miss Kathleen Drysdale, who sang "Through the Years."

The 150 guests who attended a reception in the Century Room of Melody Lane following the ceremony were received by Mrs. Stromkins and Mrs. Luney Sr., and Gordon Sward, the groom's uncle, proposed the toast. Attractive floral decorations were roses and orange blossoms which encircled pillars in the room.

For the motor trip, the bride changed to a blue-grey gabardine suit, over which she wore a champagne beige shortie coat. Her accessories were black and she wore gardenias in corsage.

A new home at 1135 Reynolds Road will be ready for them when they return.

Y.W.C.A. Plans Outing

As part of their "Swing into Summer" program, the Y.W.C.A. is planning an outing at Shawnigan Lake, July 11. All young men and women, whether they are "Y" members or not, may attend. An afternoon of hiking, swimming and sunning will be enjoyed. Reservations must be made by Wednesday.

Exhibits of flowers, vegetables and small fruits were shown in the Sooke community hall dining room at the second annual exhibition sponsored by the Evening Guild of Knox Presbyterian Church, Sooke.

Entries were judged by J. C. Crosby, and prizes awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Diamond, Mesdames J. Gallant, J. M. McLeod, William Shields, M. Sember, James Goudie, James Forrest, C. B. Married At Choral Service In Metropolitan United

At Metropolitan United Church Saturday at 7:30, as the choir finished singing the hymn "O Perfect Love," Alice Marion Ingils arrived at the church, and came down the aisle to become the bride of Peter Campbell.

Baskets of gladioli decorated the church for the double-ring ceremony, solemnized by Dr. A. E. Whitehouse, uniting in marriage the only daughter of Mrs. A. Richardson, 114 Wildwood Avenue, and the only son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Campbell of North Vancouver.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white sheer, with lace bodice top and long lace sleeves, trimmed at the shoulder with pearls and gathered to a sheer yoke. With her gown she wore a long net veil, which was made by hand and left to her by Mrs. J. Reid.

She also wore a pearl sunburst belonging to her mother, and pearl earrings given her by the groom. Pink roses and white gladioli formed her arm bouquet, from which hung sweetheart roses knotted to white satin streamers. Mr. A. Richardson gave his step-daughter in marriage.

Peach moire taffeta, fashioned with fitted bodice and full draped skirt was used for the gowns of the two bridesmaids, Miss Florence Larinde and Miss Kay Lockley. They wore floral bands in their hair, and carried peach roses arranged in small baskets.

Honor attendant was Miss Lorna Lang, whose gown of pale green moire taffeta was similar to those of the bridesmaids. She carried a basket of deep red roses and also wore flowers in her hair.

James Blair stood with his cousin as best man, and guests were seated by Len Arnall and by the bride's brother, Bill Ingils, who later sang "I Love Thee" during the signing of the register.

DIDN'T I TELL YOU?
You get 50% MORE
Jam or Jelly with CERTO

AND RESULTS ARE SURE!

Sounds almost unbelievable—until you know the reasons why. Certo is nothing but "fruit pectin"—the natural substance in fruit which makes jams "jam" and jellies "jell." It's extracted from fruits in which it is most plentiful for better, quicker, easier jam and jelly making.

1. Short boil—That's why, when you use Certo, you don't have to "boil down" your fruit to make it set. A one-to-two-minute full, rolling boil is enough for jams... a half-minute-to-a-minute for jellies.

2. Extra yield—The short Certo boil saves all the precious fruit juice which, in long boiling, goes off in steam. You get an extra yield of 50% more jam or jelly.

3. Saves time, work—What a lot of time and work it saves, too! The old long-boil way you'd have to boil and stir many times as long.

4. Fresh fruit flavour—colour—With Certo you use fruit at its peak of flavor and colour and not the under-ripe fruit used in long-boil recipes. The Certo boil is too short to spoil this lovely taste and colour. They stay right in your jam or jelly.

5. No failures—You'll have no failures if you follow exactly the recipes provided with Certo. Different fruits need different handling, so there's a separate tested recipe for each one.

Acute Shortage Of Workers For Berry Fields, Orchards

Agricultural Minister Frank Putnam, reporting the most acute shortage of workers for orchards and berry fields since the inception of the farm labor service in 1943, today appealed to British Columbians to help harvest British Columbia fruit crops.

"For the first time it has been necessary to transport strawberry pickers from New Westminster to Abbotsford, and on most days insufficient numbers were available," he said.

The movement of women and girls from the prairie provinces has been inaugurated by the department of labor, the minister said, but the response has not been too satisfactory up to the present.

Reporting that 1,000 outside pickers would be needed at Yarrow, Mr. Putnam said every effort was being made to meet the situation and it was hoped sufficient help would be available from Vancouver, New Westminster and other Fraser Valley points.

He reported grave shortages of men in some sections of the Okanagan Valley to thin apple crops. This shortage was most acute at Kelowna, Penticton and Osoyoos.

"The normal movement of transient labor from the prairies has not developed this year," he said, appealing for registration of all those who could help in the Okanagan.

"A successful harvest of the fruit crop of this province is essential to the economy of British Columbia, particularly in a year when losses from floods have seriously lowered the gross income from agricultural production," he said.

Body Found In Harbor

VANCOUVER (CP)—Body of a man, identified by police as George D. Burke, Vancouver, was recovered from Burrard Inlet, near the immigration wharf, here Sunday. Burke, a barge master for Canadian Pacific Steamships had been missing for about two weeks, and is believed to have fallen into the water from a tug or barge.

COWICHAN ACCIDENT INJURES TWO—Passengers aboard this Vancouver Island Coach Lines bus, traveling from Duncan to Lake Cowichan Sunday, were shaken up and two suffered injuries when the heavy vehicle piled into a bank on the washboard Cowichan Lake Road. Company officials said the right wheel king-pin snapped. The bus careened off the road and the left wheel collapsed. The bus was carrying loggers and mill workers returning to their jobs in the woods after a week-end in town. A Chinese passenger suffered facial injuries and a white man leg injuries.

Colorful Stampede Opens At Calgary With Big Parade

CALGARY (CP)—Calgary went Western today to the tune of cowboy yells, Indian whoops and the swishing of twirling lariats.

A two-mile parade through crowded, flag-bedecked streets marked the opening of the annual six-day Calgary Exhibition and Stampede, one of Canada's most spectacular events.

Scores of mounted Indians in full ceremonial dress and war paint shared the parade spotlight with hundreds of cowboys and cowgirls in picturesque western garb.

The parade gave a kaleidoscopic picture of the west's development, from the early days when Indian braves ruled the prairies down to the most modern developments in industry.

Transport development was vividly demonstrated from the primitive Indian travois formed by two poles drawn by a horse, through Red River carts, stage coaches, early and modern automobiles and a float depicting the latest developments in the flying industry.

Persons taking part in the parade rode and marched to the music of 20 brass and pipe bands, including the Royal Canadian Navy's Band from Esquimalt, B.C., and the famous Vancouver Kitsilano Boys' Band.

A. L. Smith, Progressive Conservative member for Calgary West in the House of Commons, will officially open the stampede at the Exhibition Grounds to-night.

The Calgary summer race meet is being held in conjunction with the Stampede, with more than 400 horses on hand to take part in seven races scheduled daily. Highlight of the meeting will be the running of the $1,000 added Calgary Juvenile Stakes for western-bred two-year-olds next Friday.

Big Social Plans Start In Britain

LONDON (CP)—For Britain's social planners today is the day of dreams come true.

Months ago July 5 was declared the "appointed day" for operation of the National Insurance, National Health and National Assistance Acts.

In general, everyone from school-leaving to retirement age—65 for men and 60 for women—comes under the compulsory provisions. They make payments for social security protection against the bludgeoning of fate: ill-health, unemployment, poverty and old age. Even married women who share the benefits of their husbands' insurance may elect to be insured in their own right.

The basic figure of benefit is 26s ($5.20) weekly in unemployment, sickness and retirement, plus 16s ($3.20) for an adult dependent, 7s 6d. For the first child under school-leaving age. Additional children are covered by the 5s weekly payable under the Family Allowances Act.

Three classified groups are established for contributions and benefits:

The largest group, estimated at 19,000,000 persons, covers all employed under contract of service and ranging from laborers to executives. The second group covers gainfully employed persons who work for themselves and the third group covers the unemployed.

Employer and employee both make contributions in the first group and for individuals weekly payments will usually range between 3s and 6s, with women paying about 1s less than men in most categories.

Canadians In Britain Honor War Dead

HASTINGS, Essex, Eng. (CP)—More than 100 members of the Canadian Veterans' Association in the United Kingdom paraded Sunday night at Heroes' Corner in the local cemetery to hold a service for members of the Canadian forces who died in the First World War.

Rev. L. A. Bralant, formerly of Wainwright, Alta., and chaplain of Canadian forces in the Second World War, officiated. The salute was taken by Brig. H. D. Graham, chief Canadian liaison officer for Britain, who was representing Norman Robertson, Canadian High Commissioner.

Among those taking part in the ceremony were R. F. Orme of Vancouver, chairman of the Canadian Veterans' Association in the United Kingdom; W. N. Robb of Winnipeg, vice-chairman, and D. Robinson of Edmonton, secretary.

Mr. Bralant in his address said Britain honored Canada not only for comradeship as brothers-in-arms in two wars, but also for practical friendship to the mother country in lean times of peace.

15 Tacoma Children Burned By Firecrackers

TACOMA (AP)—Despite the fact there are laws prohibiting the sale and use of fireworks both in the city and in Pierce County, there were a total of 15 children treated in three of the city's hospitals Sunday night.

With these 15 firework victims there were 29 other persons treated for accidental injuries, making a total of 44 since early Saturday night when the three-day vacation began.

The DOCTOR

Says:

EXPERIMENTS PROVE DIET NEEDS MEAT

Vegetarians refuse to eat food, derived from animals, because they consider meat harmful. It is possible to live on a diet in which only vegetable protein is eaten, but the results of experiments indicate that it is better to eat both animal and vegetable proteins if top health is to be maintained.

Some so-called vegetarians eat milk, butter, eggs and cheese, in addition to vegetables and other foods. This group apparently believes that they can accomplish their purpose by abstaining from animal flesh, but dairy products are of animal origin and their proteins are identical with those of meat.

Animal and vegetable proteins help build and repair body structure. Proteins contain nitrogenous compounds which are a basic need for persons of all ages. They also have carbon, hydrogen, oxygen, sulphur, phosphorus, iron and other minerals in their structure. These elements are combined by plants, which form them into amino acids.

It is possible to mix several vegetables and get combinations which yield all the amino acids necessary for health, but the simplest way to do it is to eat a well-balanced diet containing both animal and vegetable proteins.

In addition to supplying amino acids, vegetables are a good source of minerals and vitamins. Raw or cooked fruit and several vegetables should be eaten daily. Potatoes are especially valuable for children and hard workers, as they contain amino acids, starch, minerals and vitamins.

PSYCHOLOGICAL PROBLEM

Some vegetarians do not eat meat because of sentimental reasons. It is a psychological problem which may go back to some childhood experience.

Older persons may attempt to derive all of their amino acids from vegetables, because they have been told that meat is harmful for them. This prejudice goes back to the last century.

COVENTRY GROUP TAUGHT MARIAN EVANS ABOUT OUTSIDE WORLD

The little girl known as Marian Evans, started at the age of five, to attend the school kept by Miss Lathom. At eight she went on to the school of Miss Wallington, then to a school which was managed by two sisters named Franklin. Miss Rebecca Franklin became her special friend, and taught her to take great care to do things in the correct way.

When she was 16 years old, Marian had to give up her school career. Because of her mother's death, she took up the duty of managing the household for her father.

Some girls, at this point, would have forgotten about plans for learning, but not Marian! She engaged a professor to teach her German at her home, and a music teacher also made regular visits. All her life she loved music, and it was a comfort to her. Yet she spent the greater part of her time in a broader learning. She became skillful in speaking and writing the German language, and she read all the good books she could find.

In the year 1841, Mr. Evans and his daughter moved to Coventry, a town several miles from the estate for which her father was agent. In Coventry she became a close friend of Mrs. Charles Bray. The husband of Mrs. Bray was an author, and so was her brother. Many were the meetings of this little group, and Marian learned much more about the outside world. Through those friends, she was offered the task of translating a book from German into English. This she did in excellent style, and later she translated other works from German into English.

At the age of 29, Marian Evans lost her father, and shortly after his death went to Switzerland. In the midst of the Swiss mountains, she had time to think over her life, and what she might do with it. She had in her the makings of a great writer, but she was shy about trying to write a novel. How it happened that she wrote as George Eliot, we shall speak in our next story. (For biography section of your scrapbook).

4-Day July 1 Celebration Takes Lives Of 62 Persons

By CANADIAN PRESS

On the highway, on the water and in the air, death rode with Canadians during the long Dominion Day week-end.

A Canadian Press compilation today showed 62 persons lost their lives since the four-day celebration started last Thursday.

But during a comparable four-day period last year, the Saturday-to-Tuesday Dominion Day observance, the total was far higher: 98.

Drownings took 29 lives as hot weather over most of Canada lured holidaygoers to the beaches. Highway deaths numbered 21. Two plane crashes, one in northern British Columbia and another in the Ontario wilds, killed seven persons altogether. Two men were shot to death near Riviere du Loup, Que., and a train mishap and a fall each caused a death.

Since Friday night 35 deaths have been reported.

Jean Marc Labbe, 32-year-old son of a minister without portfolio in Quebec's Duplessis cabinet was drowned Sunday night in Oyster Lake, seven miles from the Eastern Townships town of Thetford, Que.

FRASER TAKES LIFE

Don McCluckie of Vancouver was drowned when swept under by the Fraser River and Emile Ledet, 22, drowned in a remote Manitoba lake north of The Pas.

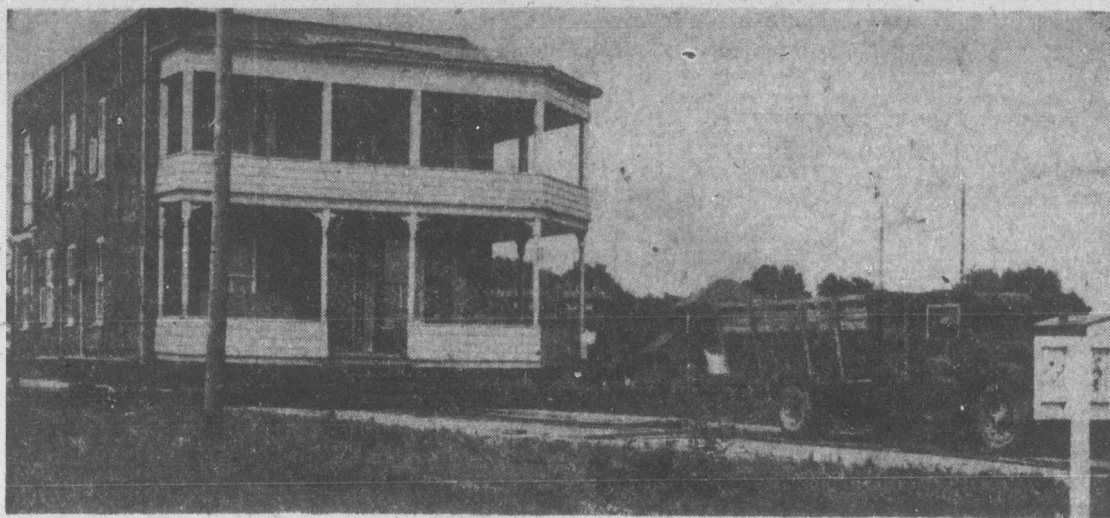

Mrs. Andrew Grayson of Edmonton was crushed under a car and Robert E. Carson, 24, of Vancouver, and John Carpenter, 19,

28 Motorcyclists Face Drunk Charges

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—The celebration of Independence Day in Riverside started riotously and may finish that way.

Police said 28 persons, most of them motorcyclists en route to an amateur racing meet at nearby Box Springs, had been jailed for drunkenness and disturbance.

More than 2,000 cyclists roared through Riverside, en route to the race meet, littered streets with beer bottles and threw firecrackers at officers who tried to arrest them.

Some of the cyclists used traffic lights as starting signals for races down the main street and others blocked off traffic so companions could spin circles at intersections.

Sheriff Carl F. Rayburn was set on by a group of riders when he remonstrated with them. His clothing was torn and he was punched by a cyclist who fled but was later arrested and charged with drunkenness.

Fish Derby Prize Winner

Robert Cross, 728 Selkirk Avenue, with his prize-winning 27-lb. 11-oz. salmon in yesterday's annual Solarium Derby. Also shown is the Ed Duffin trophy and the first prize of a portable radio.

"Magnificent help," was the way Logan Mayhew described the work of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association and Chinook Club when he learned the angling clan will be able to again turn over a cheque bettering $1,500 to the Queen Alexandra Solarium as a result of its sponsorship of the annual salmon derby for the institution on Sunday at Saanich Inlet.

It was the third annual running of the competition and raises the total monies collected by the fishing clubs for the Solarium to a few dollars short of $4,500 since 1946. Mayhew, a director of the Solarium, was introduced by president Les Dicks of the association to present the prizes.

The derby drew out a large number of fishermen to shoot for the 18 angling prizes. Few large fish were taken but association officials and boatmen alike believe the take per boat to be the biggest in many years of derby days.

There was a large catch of small springs and bluebacks, the three top-winning fish placed on the scales being bronze-bouton size.

A 27-pound, 11-ounce beauty taken by Robert Cross, 728 Selkirk Avenue, near the Deep Hole, placed tops on the derby fish ladder. Bob caught the specimen in the morning and won the $100 A.C.D.C. portable radio, first fishing prize and the handsome Ed Duffin Trophy.

Trailing along behind him by a couple of pounds to lift the cedar hope chest was 1145 North Park Street's Harold Harrison with a 25-pound, six-ounce catch taken in the Goldstream narrows. Third prize went to Cliff Heglin, 861 Fort Street. He was the chap who last week missed his button by a quarter of a pound. But he got it this time with a 21 1/4-pounder. Besides his button he won a chest of silver flatware.

Next heavy placed on the ladder was 13 ounces short of button-size. It was a 19.3-pound specimen by J. Clyde of 2824 Rockwell. He won a picnic basket set. George Simmons, 801 Craigflower, came up with an 18.12-pounder to take fifth prize and English leather suitcase.

WOMEN WINNERS

In the ranks of the fair-sex anglers, Mrs. Dorothy Hunter, 730 Violet Street, emerged with the large silver tray and the Page the Cleaner Trophy for taking the biggest salmon. It weighed 11.6 pounds, while Mrs. Helen Allen, Gordon Head camp, placed second in this group. Her catch was 7 1/2 pounds and the prize that went with it, was a $25 script.

Featured in the junior ranks was Bev Smith. He won a wrist watch for his 10 1/4-pounder and Jacob's Bakery Trophy. Smallest fish of the day weighed in was a five-ounce by King Smith. He got a special prize.

Other prize winners in the general group, weights of fish and awards, were: Sixth, Frank Larsen, Cowichan Bay, 16 1/2 pounds, tackle box, lures and wire line; seventh, T. Alexander, Brentwood, 15.1 pounds, cans of oil; eighth, Cyril Wagg, Ganges, 14.15 pounds, trolling reel; ninth, Sgt. Stanley Holmes (city police), 1370 Hillside Avenue, 14.12 pounds, blanket; 10th, F. Rowbottom, 14.4 pounds, one gallon thermos; 11th, Jack Welham, 109 Island Highway, 13.14 pounds, silver casserole; 12th, Jack Felton, 1461 Finlayson Street, 13 1/2 pounds, set of seat cushions; 13th, Ralph Day, 1506 Ryan Street, 13 1/2 pounds, silk scarf, and 14th, M. A. Forrester, 3000 Tillicum Road, 11.6 pounds, a landing net.

A crowd estimated at about 1,000 gathered at the Anchorage headquarters at Brentwood to watch the happy prize winners come forward for their awards. Harry Woolston, 1946 and 1947 president of the association, was given a big hand when he was introduced by president Dicks as the association head who started the angling clan on Solarium benefits.

THE BIG WINNER

Most envied person of all was H. Jobson, St. Francis Hotel, Yates Street. He was the winner of the $500 combination radio and phonograph, first consolation prize.

Other consolation winners were W. M. Cook, Millstream Road, a rose bowl, and T. Brooks, 716 Johnson Street, a brush and shaving set. Bucky Kennett, Duncan, president of the Cowichan Bay Salmon Club, was introduced and spoke briefly. On his way back up-land, he dropped off a number of fish anglers had donated to the Solarium.

Logue Beats Tigers To Put Athletics In Third Spot

Second Game Ends In 10-Inning, 2-2 Tie; Caps Split As Salem Drubs Spokane Twice

Respectable Frank Logue pitched the Athletics into third place in the W.L.L. pennant chase last night at Tacoma by setting down the Tigers with three hits in the abbreviated opener of a scheduled twin bill for a 2 to 4 victory. The second game was called at the end of the 10th inning with the score tied at 2 to 2.

It was the A's third straight win over the league-leaders and equalled the Tigers longest losing streak of the season. In the extra inning finale Victoria held a

CAPILANO SPLIT

Bremerton and Vancouver split their doubleheader at Bremerton and Vancouver's loss in the second game enabled the A's to move ahead of their Canadian rivals by a half game and to within four and one-half games of the Bluejackets. Bremerton now trails the Tigers by one game.

Tacoma took the lead in the first game, scoring two runs in the second inning. Stetter was hit by a pitched ball. Greenlaw tripped to score Stetter and then scored himself on a double steal.

The A's got one back in the third when Russ Walseth singled, went to second on a wild pitch, was sacrificed to third by Logue and scored when Rossi let a third strike on Charlie Balassi roll through to the stands. Balassi stole second and Jack Palmer singled infield. But the rally died when Balassi was caught in a run-down after Palmer had been picked off first.

In the fourth inning Walseth drove in Recca with the tying run with a single.

The A's knocked Greenlaw out of the box in a big fifth inning when five runs crossed the plate after DeVito had again put Tacoma in front with a two-run homer in the bottom of the fourth.

Balassi opened the fifth with a base on balls. Palmer singled.

Wilson doubled to score Balassi and Jensen was purposely passed to load the bags. Dick Morgan came in to bat for Recca and singled home Palmer and Wilson. Buccola walked to again fill the bases and Jensen scored the fourth run on Walseth's outfield fly. Logue then singled home Morgan. Balassi, up for the second time, again drew a walk but relief pitcher Jim Gleason forced Kubiak to ground out to end the inning.

Morgan singled home Wilson with another marker in the sixth and scored himself on Buccola's triple. Kubiak tallied the final run in the seventh on Palmer's third hit of the game.

Del Dvans went the route in the extra-inning game allowing the Tigers 10 hits. Vince Lazor was on the hill for the Tigers and stopped the A's in all but the seventh inning when they scored both their runs.

A walk to Perlmutter, a stolen base and Ray Tran's triple gave Tacoma a 1 to 0 lead in the fifth.

In the Victoria seventh Morgan singled and went to second on Perlmutter's boot. Buccola singled to score Morgan and Walseth tripled to score Buccola. Stetter's single and DeVito's triple tied the score for Tacoma in the ninth.

Bob Snyder hurled a one-hit game in Vancouver's 2 to 0 win over Bremerton while Keith Simon's pinch-hit single scored the winning run for the Bluejackets in the 10th inning of the second game which went to the Jackets, 2 to 1.

Salem swept both ends of the Sunday twin bill from Spokane, winning the first, 4 to 0, and the second 15 to 7.

Another one-hitter was turned in by Bill Freeman of Yakima who blanked Wenatchee, 6 to 0. The Chiefs won the nightcap, 5 to 4. All teams play double-headers today.

Campanella's Hitting Marks Dodgers' Rally

The most popular player on Brooklyn Dodgers' team currently is Roy Campanella, a rookie negro receiver. His brilliant work during the week-end at bat and in the field left the impression he might be the long-ball hitter the Dodgers long have been seeking.

It is not mere coincidence that the Dodgers vacated the National League cellar the day Campanella made his debut behind the plate.

The former Montreal Royals player, almost single-handedly was responsible for the Dodgers' taking two out of three over their hated New York rivals and climbing into sixth place, three games out of the first division.

In his first game Friday night Campanella hit three solid singles, although the Giants nipped the Dodgers 6 to 4. Saturday Campanella walloped a triple and two singles to help the Dodgers beat the Giants 7 to 5. Yesterday he smashed two

Lester Patrick Referees Hockey Clash At Nelson

NELSON (CP)—Trail Smoke Eaters and Nelson Maple Leafs played a novelty hockey game Saturday night as a fitting climax to the fourth annual midsummer bonspiel. The game ended in a 5 to 5 tie.

Some of the greatest names in the hockey world performed before a capacity house of 2,000 fans.

Lester Patrick, vice-president of Madison Square Garden and past-manager of New York Rangers, refereed the match. Doug Bentley of Chicago Black Hawks and Joe Benoit, formerly with Montreal Canadiens, were on the Nelson firing line.

The Smokes were led by Mike Buckna of the prewar world champion Smoke Eaters and 1947 coach of the Czechoslovakia Olympic team.

Benoit figured in all but one of the five Nelson goals, while Buckna tallied twice for the Smoke Eaters.

home runs and a single to lead the Brooks to a 13 to 12 triumph over the Giants.

For his three days' work, Campanella has hammered out nine hits in 12 official times at bat for a cool .750 average.

14-RUN INNING

Boston Red Sox blasted a record-tying 14 runs in one inning to overcome Philadelphia Athletics 19 to 5. The Red Sox got 20 hits but the mighty Ted Williams was the only batter who failed to connect for at least one safety. He received three walks.

The Red Sox pounded on C. Harris for 12 runs in the seventh inning before manager Connie Mack sent in Bill McMahon. Harris was the losing pitcher. New York Yankees and Chicago Cubs are the only other clubs since 1900 to have scored 14 runs in a single inning.

New York Yankees moved to within a half game of the second-place Athletics and one of the American-League-leading Cleveland Indians by defeating Washington Senators 6 to 5.

The White Sox humbled the Tigers 12 to 1 in the second game of a Chicago doubleheader after Detroit had won the opener 6 to 3. The White Sox collected 18 hits for 33 total bases in the nightcap.

The National League-leading Braves were handed a double setback by the Phillies in Philadelphia 7 to 2 and 5 to 2 with veteran Bill Donnelly and rookie Robin Roberts gaining the decisions.

Fan Appreciation Night At Ball Park Thursday

With a host of valuable prizes to be given away the Victoria Athletics club will stage its second annual fan appreciation night Thursday evening. The draw for the 40 or 50 prizes, along with some novel entertainment, will be a preview to the second game of the Athletics Bremerton W.L.L. series.

Complete list of prizes for the big night will be announced later by Reg. Patterson, business manager of the A's, but he intimated today the feature award would likely be a silver tea service. The entertainment and prize drawing will start at 7.45

Gordon Hobson Captures Graphic Arts Golf Title

Gordon Hobson captured the Graphic Arts golf championship and the Norman F. Hall Trophy at Uplands Golf Club yesterday by posting a net 60 to top the field of 84 entries in the 12th annual affair.

The 30 handicapper, who according to qualified observers was deserving of such a rating in the pre-tournament draw, was in good form and his net 60 (gross 90), was four strokes better than runner-up Stan Sylvestor's 64. G. Langley finished in third place with a net 65.

Bob Harrison was his usual self and walked off with low gross honors with a 73. Colin Campbell had 79 for second place with Alex Walker third with 83.

Dubious honor of registering the highest score, which was far below last year's record high, went to Doc Rutherford with 138.

Following the tournament a banquet and prize giving took place in the dining-room.

Other prize-winners follow: Low net first nine, D. Malcolm, E. Robinson; low net second nine, Jack Caddell, D. Jenkins; high score first nine, D. Lardier; high score second nine, Tom McDonald; low gross visitors, Jack Duddy; second low gross visitors, R. Jackson; low net visitors, Bert Ray; second low net visitors, Chas Hutton, Frank Taschner.

Hogan Closes Strong To Force Playoff With Dutch Harrison

DETROIT (AP)—Wee Ben Hogan, the little guy with the big golf game, stepped farther ahead in the Professional Golfers' Association money parade today as he tangled with E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, the ambling Arkansan, in an 18-hole playoff for the Motor City Open golf championship.

Hogan closed with his second straight 66, five under par, to overhaul the 38-year-old Harrison on the last leg of the 72-hole holiday show yesterday. They finished with identical four-day totals of 275, -1ne strokes under par for the 6,616-yard Meadowbrook Country Club course where par is 35-36-71. Today's playoff is for the $2,600 winner's share of $15,000 in prize money and the $1,900 award to the runner-up. Hogan entered the tournament leading 1948 money winners with $17,597.

Sturdy John Palmer of Badin, N.C., played the best round of the tournament to close with 31-34-65 for 278, six under par, along with Marty Furgol.

Each collected $1,275 for four days' work. Bobby Locke, tied for the lead going into the final 18, had his poorest round of the four days—even par 71—to drop into a fifth-place tie with Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago at 279.

Probable starting line-up for locals will be: Rookie Wright, shortstop; Wally Thomson, second base; Al Duz, rightfield; Jack Walker, centerfield; Roger Ross, third base; Ray Moretti, leftfield; Ron Castner, first base; Earl Phillips, catcher; Bill Prior, pitcher.

Regular scheduled league contest tomorrow night between Boosters and Pitzer and Nex has been switched to Wednesday at Macdonald Park.

B.C. Race Operators Jack Up Purses $100

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia race track operators Sunday granted horsemen a $100 purse increase, but simultaneously rapped the provincial government's pari-mutuel taxation system.

The increase, which boosted minimum purses to $300, followed a government grant Saturday of one-twelfth of its 12 per cent tax on all pari-mutuel bets.

The government said it was yielding the 1 per cent tax "on the distinct understanding the money would be used to increase purses." Consequently, track operators did not benefit one cent.

Horsemen and track operators planned to continue efforts to persuade the B.C. government to abandon the 5 per cent tax it took over from the Dominion government.

"The federal tax was a war measure only, and the provincial government had no right to take it over," declared Al Hardy, general manager of the B.C. Turf Club, which operates Lansdowne track.

B.C. UNIQUE

British Columbia is the only province to commandeer the abandoned 5 per cent federal levy. Most provinces take the prewar 7 per cent tax. Last week the Dominion government amended the Criminal Code to allow tracks 9 per cent of the pari-mutuel take, an increase of 2 per cent.

So today, when the fifth day of B.C. racing

Summer School Begins With Record Enrollment Of 1,200

The British Columbia Department of Education's Summer School opened at Victoria High School this morning with a record enrollment of 1,200 on hand to hear the welcoming address of Hon. W. T. Straith, Minister of Education.

"It is the largest enrollment in the history of summer school, but we are fully equipped to handle them all," said Harold Johns, director of the five-week course, as he viewed the jammed main corridor of the school.

Majority of the classes will be held at Victoria High School, but art and gymnasium courses are scheduled for Central Junior High School. Commercial and technical courses will be held in Vancouver.

Officials report that the difficult task of finding accommodation for the teachers, who will be students until Aug. 6, has practically been solved.

In attendance are teachers from all over British Columbia and the prairie provinces and a few from Ontario.

VISITING LECTURERS

A number of well-known educationalists are visiting lecturers this term. These are: Dr. Karl S. Berghardt, professor of psychology at the University of Toronto; Miss Dorothea Jackson, director of kindergarten primary education of the Seattle public schools; Miss Cathryn M. Jones, principal of a Los Angeles elementary school; Miss Elizabeth McLeish, supervisor of art of the Brandon public schools, and O. I. Schmaelzle, director of counselling and guidance for San Francisco schools.

It will not be all work for the student-teachers, however. Included in the course as extra-curricular activities are dances and a concert series. And a few picnics and beach parties are usually a "must" with visiting teachers.

Beef Prices Here Remain Unchanged

Victoria housewives appear to have resigned themselves to current beef prices.

Although a Vancouver report states that beef specials on Saturday were marked down 5 and 1 cents below current prices, no corresponding drop occurred here.

Wholesale and retail beef prices are unchanged, dealers state. There still appears to be a certain amount of buying resistance, but some stores recorded a slight increase in beef sales during the week-end.

Fun For Thousands At Gyro Carnival Helps Solarium

For the ninth consecutive year the Gyro Club of Victoria is preparing for the Gyro Carnival and Hole-In-One Contest to be held at Central Junior High School grounds. This event has met with increasing popularity and each year new attractions have been added to provide more fun for the thousands who attend.

Lots of good prizes and games will be included this year with a Bendix automatic washer as main prize for the golf competition. The Gyro Club has been able to present to the Solarium $40,000 through its efforts and the generosity of the patrons who attend this yearly function.

This year, under the direction of the Gyro Club and with funds derived from the carnival the Solarium facilities are being greatly improved by the addition of three attractive new buildings to provide much needed accommodation for nurses.

Many well-known Victoria citizens have done a great deal to make the Gyro Carnival a success.

"A higher objective than ever before is set for the 1948 carnival as the bigger the crowd the better chance the Gyro Club has to gather in the funds needed to finish the building, project that has been started at the Solarium," says Wm. Bond, president of the Gyro Club.

Charge Which Arose From 'Joke' Dismissed In Court

A young man who had been "hoodwinked" into believing he had got the consent of the right owner to ride around on his motorcycle, had a charge of taking the vehicle without the permission of the owner dismissed by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today.

Charge arose when Sgt. Walter Andrews saw a person riding the machine about the downtown streets "in a very erratic manner." The officer said when apprehended accused was so nervous about something he took him to the station. There it was learned the motorcycle had been reported stolen.

David Vallance, rightful owner, said he had given no one permission to take the bike.

Defence evidence was that when the defendant met four of his chums at the Topper Cafe, Yates Street, Saturday night they convinced him that one of their number owned the motorcycle parked there. When accused asked the one pointed out as the owner if he could drive the machine he got a reply "go ahead any time."

When the other four went into the cafe after carrying out their "joke," accused climbed aboard the bicycle to start himself on the way to a lot of grief.

Magistrate Hall said he could see no criminal intent on the part of the defendant in the case.

$450 Worth Of Jewelry Stolen From City Home

Mrs. H. M. Cowper, 1301 Rockland Avenue, reported to city police yesterday that approximately $450 worth of jewelry was stolen from her home while she was away from town.

Mr. Cowper was away from the place during the night of June 26 for three hours and returned to find their home had been broken into. However he could find nothing missing and did not report it, according to city police.

Mrs. Cowper discovered what had been taken on her return from Vancouver.

Stolen were a woman's and man's wrist watches, valuable bracelets and lockets.

Entry was gained through a bedroom window left unlocked.

Truck Driver Gets Fractured Arm In Week-end Accidents

Clarence Dawse, 140 Joseph Street, suffered a fractured left arm and a bruised left leg in one of a trio of accidents in the city during the week-end.

Driving a Heatherbank Dairy Co. vehicle, police said that after crossing Douglas Street at Humboldt Street the truck went into a skid. It hit a parking sign and the V.I. Coach Lines bus on the northwest corner of the intersection and the driver was thrown out of the cab onto the pavement.

About $100 damage was done to a car driven by Jack R. Bland, Oakland, California, and $75 damage to one in charge of Alastair F. Gower, 238 Richmond Avenue, when they collided at Cook and Fort Street Sunday night, police reported.

A car which knocked over a fire hydrant at the intersection of Blanshard Street and Burdett Avenue early Sunday morning did not remain at the scene or report it. Two pieces of glass from a headlight and a bumper stay were picked up by police.

Saanich Recreation Council general meeting will be held tonight at 8 at 1322 Government Street, to discuss opening of supervised playgrounds in Saanich on July 12.

City police said a number of beach and lawn chairs and two seven-foot umbrellas, were stolen from Mollie's Bar B-Q, 482 Gorge Road, during the week-end.

Oak Bay Building Figures Going Up

Building figures issued by Oak Bay's building department show that construction continues to increase in the municipality. Construction for June is way above that of May.

During June 34 permits were issued amounting to a total value of $140,209, of which $132,200 was for 20 dwellings. The remainder for alterations and additions to homes. Last month only 28 permits were issued amounting to a total value of $113,688.

For the same period last year 15 permits were issued amounting to a total value of $59,528.

Since the beginning of the year Oak Bay has issued 160 permits valued at $656,097, of which 93 were dwellings costing $618,850. Only 100 permits were issued at a value of $399,139, of which 51 were for dwellings costing $346,530 for the same period last year.

Bella Coola Residents Want Beer Parlors

Electorates of the Bella Coola district of the Mackenzie constituency have voted 196 to 120 for sale of beer by the glass in that area.

With 62 per cent of the vote in favor of beer parlors, an application will go before the Liquor Control Board. A 55 per cent majority is necessary.

Mayor George Says Eastern Convention Of Great Value

Mayor Percy George was back at City Hall today for the first time since his return from the Halifax convention of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities.

He was greatly pleased with the success of the convention and stressed the value of such meetings. While mayors' conventions might not, at the moment, show 100 per cent results, the discussions of problems does bring about solidarity of thinking along a given line and does, sooner or later, let the senior government know how the municipalities are thinking and what their collective municipal problems are, he said.

Three special committees were struck at the convention to deal with matters discussed at the conferences and, if considered necessary, bring them up to the Dominion government, Mayor George said.

HIGH LIVING COSTS DISCUSSED

One of the major points discussed at the convention was the high cost of living and the delegates passed on a motion by Mayor George that, while the convention was not in favor of re-institution of price controls, it did consider the Dominion should do all in its power to stop the present inflationary trend.

The mayor said he had pointed out that there were a large number of people, particularly in western Canada, who were on fixed incomes or old age pensions, who were being faced with great difficulties because of rising costs.

Another matter brought up by Mayor George and received favorably by the convention was the condemnation of pernicious and salacious comics and pulp magazines. "In our opinion, such publications tend to direct younger minds into the wrong channel of thinking," the mayor said.

LOW-RENTAL HOUSING

Other matters which came up before the convention and which will be dealt with by the special committees were:

Housing particularly low-rental housing.

Dominion-provincial-municipal financial relations.

Tax exemptions on Crown properties, particularly those which have an income, such as the Belmont Building, locally.

Public ownership and utilities. Relations of the municipalities to the senior governments.

City and town planning.

Taxations and assessment practices in the various municipalities throughout the Dominion.

Maintenance and disposition of emergency shelter.

The modern trend of traffic problems.

Pleading guilty to a charge of driving a car while intoxicated, William D. Robertson was sentenced to seven days in jail by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today. There is no fine alternative to a charge of this nature. His driver's license was suspended for six months.

Province This Year To Harvest Greatest Peach Crop In History.

British Columbia this year will harvest the greatest peach crop in history.

With a considerable new acreage coming into production the provincial agriculture department has estimated the pick this year at 1,981,380 crates. The 1947 pick was 1,895,724 crates.

MOSTLY IN OKANAGAN

More than 98 per cent of the total crop will be harvested in the Okanagan Valley. This year the valley's crop is estimated at 1,968,880 crates, compared with 1,880,141 crates last year.

Production of the Kootenay and Arrow Lakes-Grand Forks district is expected this year to total but 10,000 crates, a loss from 11,795 crates harvested last year. The Creston peach harvest is also expected to be down—from 3,788 crates last year to 2,500 crates this year.

The Oliver-Osoyoos section of the Okanagan fruit-producing area will produce this year, according to the department's estimates, 735,000 crates of peaches. Gains in peach crops are also anticipated for the Peachland, Summerland, Penticton, Naramata, Kaleden and Westbank areas.

A gain from 291,147 crates last year to 353,088 crates this year is predicted in the apricot harvest. Again the Okanagan Valley is the big producer and expected to pick a total of 352,038 crates this year.

British Columbia's cherry crop, on the other hand, this year will be less than last year. It is estimated at 316,650 crates compared with 426,044 crates produced last year. The Okanagan, the department anticipates, will produce 247,550 crates, compared with 340,379 crates picked last year.

LESS PRUNES, PLUMS

Both the prune and plum harvest this year will be less than last, the department reports.

Prune production is estimated this year at 955,000 crates, compared with 1,068,334 crates actually harvested last year. Of the anticipated 1948 total pick, 757,000 crates are expected to be produced by the Okanagan Valley.

The harvest of plums for 1948 is estimated at 259,930 crates. Last year there were 280,259 crates harvested.

'I Remember Mama' On Capitol Screen

Sir Cedric Hardwicke, after an impressive career of screen villainy, takes his first fling at full-bodied whimsy in the role of a seedy theatrical Englishman who captivates the imagination of a Norwegian family, with which he is the star boarder, in George Stevens' production of "I Remember Mama" now being shown at the Capitol Theatre.

Irene Dunne is starred in the "Mama" role. Her co-star, Barbara Bel Geddes, plays the daughter. Also starred are Oscar Homolka, as Uncle Chris, and Philip Dorn, as Papa.

The presentation is by Dore Schary, in charge of production for RKO. George Stevens directed.

Where To Go Tonight

ATLAS—"The Unsuspected," starring Joan Caulfield and Michael North.

CAPITOL—Irene Dunne in "I Remember Mama."

DOMINION—"Tarzan and the Mermaids," starring Johnny Weissmuller.

OAK BAY—"Dishonored Lady," starring Hedy Lamarr.

ODEON—Charles Boyer and Ingrid Bergman in "Arch of Triumph."

PLAZA—"Fame Is the Spur," starring Michael Redgrave.

ROYAL—"The Voice of the Turtle," starring Eleanor Parker and Ronald Reagan.

YORK INTERNATIONAL—"They Won't Believe Me," starring Robert Young and Susan Hayward.

'Fame Is the Spur' Showing At Plaza

Roy and John Boulting are directors and producers of "Fame Is the Spur," now at the Plaza Theatre.

Identical twins, only 33 years old, they are two of the most outstanding personalities of the British film industry. Each is a producer-director in his own right, having learned the business from the floor up.

Previous major productions: "Pastor Hall" and "Thunder Rock." When in the services Roy was responsible for the army film, "Desert Victory," and John for the R.A.F.'s contribution to the screen, "Journey Together."

Bob Hope Clowns In Mon. Beaucaire

The 18th Century royal courts of Spain and France are the picturesque backgrounds for the 20th Century clowning of Bob Hope in Paramount's hilarious version of Booth Tarkington's "Monsieur Beaucaire," now at the Rio Theatre.

The inimitable Hope is said to rise to new heights of comedy in this, his first period picture. Joan Caulfield, beautiful star of "Miss Susie Slagle's," co-stars with Hope, and Patric Knowles and Marjorie Reynolds head the film comedy's supporting cast.

Vancouver City In B.C. Soccer Final

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver City entered the finals of the Dominion soccer championship (B.C. section) here Saturday as they trounced North Shore Reds 5 to 1.

However, immediately following the game, Red's Manager Frank Hunter announced he was filling a protest on the grounds that City's Joe Janovich had violated the rules by playing for a club in Seattle.

North Shore were hard hit by injuries, losing the services of Frank Ambler and Dave Cairns during the match.

Crime Pays Off Well In Films, Says Actor

Crime may not pay, but Jack Lambert's business is killing and it pays off well.

Lambert currently gets a sizeable chunk of cash money (on and off the set) to do a nasty little job in Michael Curtiz' "The Unsuspected" for Warner Bros., which opens today at the Atlas Theatre.

"When I started killing for cash," says the actor from Yonkers, "I dreamed that someday I'd be nick-named Jack the giant killer. But the only theatrical giant I ever knocked off was John Garfield, and that was on Broadway in 'Heavenly Express.'

Aquatic Adventure In New 'Tarzan' Film

Tarzan's single-handed battle in defense of a lovely maiden forms the basis of his newest and most exciting screen exploit, Edgar Rice Burroughs' "Tarzan and the Mermaids," in which Johnny Weissmuller and Brenda Joyce are starred at the Dominion Theatre.

Most of the picture's stirring action takes place around the coastal village of the Aquatanians, a tribe of pearl divers under the brutal rule of Varga, a white trader posing as the tribal god. When Varga orders the tribe's prettiest girl, Mara, to marry him she runs away and appeals to Tarzan for aid.

ODEON THEATRE

One of the most accurate, detailed and costly model sets ever built in a Hollywood studio is a replica of the famous Arch of Triumph on the Champs Elysees in Paris.

It is constructed mostly of plaster of paris on a wooden and steel frame, weighs about 2,500 pounds and measures 11 ft. 5 ins. in height, 6 ft. wide and 4 ft. 5 ins. deep.

The film also includes an exact replica of Fouquet's restaurant, famous Parisian landmark.

"Arch of Triumph," co-starring Ingrid Bergman and Charles Boyer, is based on Erich Maria Remarque's best-selling novel of the Paris of 1938 when the city was alive with refugees from other lands. Directed by Lewis

MAN MEETS "BABE" AGAIN

MANY YEARS AGO, I nearly did fall for a beautiful babe... a shapely doll. She had me hooked... I was gone, she worked as a stylist... at a Beauty Salon. And so we had many... exciting dates, in that large city in the United States.

MAKE A DATE to see these brand new davenport at only $55.00

I WAS EMPLOYED in a furniture store, sat at a desk on the upper main floor. I didn't do any actual work, 'cause a funkier was employed the carpets to jerk. I just sauntered about, all over the place, in a dignified manner... shot-off-my-face. Then made a sale, if sufficiently impressed, then sat down... at my desk.

YOU... come and sit down in THIS Chesterfield... it's custom-bilt in wine mohair... you'll love it.

ANYHOO... let's get back & have a look, at my babe... who loved to cook in her apartment, small as you'll find, so tiny you couldn't... change your mind. At first I was lonely, a little shy, but I soon grew to love... her lemon pie. And the way she looked a rainy Sunday, with her slinky housecoat with red applique.

RED SEATS and trim are on this slightly used dinette suite... only $80... beautiful birch veneer.

TIME MARCHED ON... we acted the clown, till one day her mother... blew into town. "Babe" was excited ('twas over 5 years) she'd left home... and Mamma's tears. She kept telling me, over & over again, as we went together... down to the train. "Your gonna L-O-V-E Mamma," as my arm she did seize, "cause we're alike... as 2 little peas." Then we saw her, and "Baby" rap, gushes and tears spread on each pan. Well... maybe ONCE... they were peas in a pod, but that was way back... on the prairie sod. 'Cause Mamma now was fat and round, and her hefty ankles went smack in the ground.

60 lbs. of ice will go into this $17.95 box... that's the delivered price... anywhere.

SO... after this... from "Babe" I did shy, and seldom anymore... ate her lemon pie. 'Cause I could see, 'twas plain as a door, "COMING EVENTS CAST THEIR SHADOWS BEFORE." And I didn't want her Mamma-type wife, so the curvaceous "Babe"... went out my life. The other day, a "dream" came into our store, "May I help you," I sed, as she passed by the door. She cooed up at me, a quizzical look, "why E-A-R-S?" I sed, and dropped my sales book. "GOSH... it's been Y-E-A-R-S... let me see, must 'ave been 20... since U and me." She was still the same, only a little mature, her finger was purr-fect... the same all-ure.

The figure for THIS portable "Admiral" radio is only $59.95 in a lovely leather case.

WE talked of this... reminiscenced of that, and under her chin, I detected... NO FAT. Then came the time, for her to leave. She held me gently by the sleeve, "Oh," I sed, "you gotta be goin'." her teeth still perfect... all her own. And as she stood there, fit as a fiddle, she thumbed me gently... in the middle. Then in that voice, that ONCE was mine, "Mmmmmmm... you should take better care... OF THAT OLD WAISTLINE."

Liberal Convention Expected To Bring 4,000 To Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP) — This capital faces invasion by a potential 2,114 candidates eligible to attend the National Liberal Convention which will fashion a new platform and elect a new party leader here next month.

In all, Liberal Federation officials expect some 4,000 persons at the convention, being held Aug. 5, 6 and 7, but those with official voting power will total 2,114, including 1,286 fully-accredited delegates and 828 alternates.

For the first time in party history several hundred women will be among the delegates. Women attend the 1919 convention, at which retiring Prime Minister King was elected to the leadership, but not as delegates.

M.P.'S TO ATTEND

The heaviest volume of delegates will come from the party's federal representation—members of the Commons and the Senate—and from the constituency party associations. Others will be members of provincial legislative assemblies and women's organizations.

The list of eligible delegates is broad. In addition to sitting party members in the Commons and the Senate, the defeated Liberal candidate in the last general election in ridings where the party does not hold the seat.

Besides, there are three delegates to each of the 245 federal constituencies and six delegates where a constituency calls for two parliamentary representatives.

Grain

WINNIPEG (CP)—Oats and barley futures showed a firm tone on buying by processors and shippers today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Buying was stimulated by reports of lack of good moisture in some areas on the prairie grain belt.

Commission house orders found little for sale in rye futures, trading. The deferred months scored fair gains, while the present contract remained unchanged.

There was no export of Canadian wheat reported, but indications were that 50,000 bushels of Canadian barley had been sold to an unnamed overseas country.

London Market

LONDON (Reuters)—From the tendency today, it would appear that another dull week can be expected on the London Stock Exchange.

Immediate attention of operators continued to be centred in the Berlin situation and nervousness and caution continued to have their effect on price levels.

Throughout from all sections there were small losses with tobacco and breweries the chief sufferers. Tobacco was marked lower following the announcement that the supplies of tobacco drawn from bond would be cut by 16 per cent.

Interest in the oil section was mainly on behalf of sellers. Declines, however, were not general, but Anglo-Iranian was unsettled at 8 1/2.

Minor issues were completely neglected. South African were occasionally a few pence off but there were insufficient movements to give a decided trend to these issues.
